President Insists Defense Program is Adequate

UNITED REF. AFFECTED BY IMPORT CURB

Yesterday's announcement by President Eisenhower that mandatory controls were being instituted over imports of crude oil and petroleum may result in a slight reduction in United Refining Company's present import quota, it is revealed today.

Harry A. Logan, Jr., United president, states that while he had not yet seen a text of the Presidential order, he was expecting some adjustment of the 3000 barrel per day quota under which United has been importing foreign crude as a cooperating company in the government's Voluntary Oil Import Program.

"It is to be profoundly regretted that the Administration has found it necessary to invoke compulsory oil import controls," Mr. Logan said. "The history of government regulation of free enterprise shows that controls breed more controls."

In an industry such as petroleum, with all its complex inter-relationships, yesterday's step is almost certain to lead eventually to a full straight jacket of regulation by the federal government, affecting all phases of industry operations right down to the corner service station."

Mr. Logan concludes, "The many months of delay, uncertainty and vacillation surrounding the Cabinet Committee's efforts to arrive at a revision of the Voluntary Program give ample evidence of what is in store for the future. It would be false optimism to expect this latest intrusion of federal bureaucracy into business will serve the best long-range interests of the petroleum consuming American public."

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government, seeking to bolster the nation's domestic oil and coal industries, invoked sweeping mandatory curbs today on imports of foreign crude oil.

Similar cutbacks go into effect April 1 on imports of gasoline and other finished petroleum products. President Eisenhower ordered the new import controls Tuesday, saying he acted in the interest of national security.

Eisenhower's proclamation, advocated for some time by domestic oil and gas producers, is (Turn to Page Eighteen)

Campanella's Son Paroled in the Mother's Custody

By ROBERT FARRINGTON

NEW YORK (AP)—David Campanella, 15-year-old son of former baseball star Roy Campanella, was formally adjudged today a juvenile delinquent for breaking into a drug store. He was paroled in the custody of his mother and a Catholic priest.

Children's Court Justice Sylvia Liese told reporters after the closed-door hearing that she had ordered the youth to stay off the streets at night unless accompanied by an adult.

She said she also directed him to keep up with his school studies and try to lead a normal life, pending completion of a full psychological and psychiatric examination.

Justice Liese said David admitted breaking into a Queens drug store on a dare shortly after midnight Feb. 15, but that he denied taking anything.

Young Janitor Admits He Set Fire to Youngsville School

A 23-year-old man sits in Warren County jail today unable to fully realize what prompted him to set fires in the school building where he was employed as janitor.

The confessed arsonist, Richard Alan Wood, 14 North Main street, Youngsville, admitted to state police that he deliberately set fires in Brokenstraw Valley Joint Schools. First Captive Flight of X-15

Test pilot Scott Crossfield settles down in the cockpit of the X-15 rocket plane prior to take-off and its first captive flight. The flight was made for Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., with the rocket suspended beneath a B-52 "mother ship." — (NEA Service Telephoto).

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—The X-15 manned rocket plane, designed to fly 100 miles into space at 3,600 miles-an-hour, has gone aloft in its first captive test under the wing of a

B-52 mother ship.

It was flown to 38,000 feet Tuesday out of Edwards Air Force Base, suspended on a pylon under the right wing of the eight-jet bomber. It was not dropped during the initial test and carried no fuel. The X-15 was returned to the runway 50 minutes early because of a malfunction in the communications system between the two planes.

Gen. Marshall Flown To Army Med. Center

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall, who has been seriously ill in the Army hospital at Ft. Bragg, N. C., was flown today to the Walter Reed Army Medical Center here.

The Army said that the transfer was possible because of improvement in Marshall's condition.

Marshall was taken from his home in North Carolina to the Ft. Bragg hospital after a second stroke.

Unemployment And Employment Show Slight Rise

WASHINGTON (AP)—Both employment and unemployment rose slightly between January and February, but so little as to be practically unchanged.

The government reported employment in February at 62,722,000, up 16,000 from January. It calculated unemployment at 4,749,000, up 25,000. These changes are so small as to be within the realm of possible error.

Compared with February a year ago, employment is up 734,000 and unemployment is down by 424,000. Between January and February last year employment rose by 423,000 while unemployment rose by 679,000.

Employment and unemployment can both increase at the same time because the total labor force does not remain constant. There is for instance a constant flow of younger people into the job-hunting group.

HELD FOR ROBBERY—PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—The FBI said today it had seized two men who are charged with a $17,870 Pennsylvania bank robbery.

Leo L. Laughlin, special agent in charge of the Boston FBI office, identified the men as James Francis Jenkins, 37, and Randall C. Nuss, 31, both of Levittown, Pa.

Justice Liese said David admitted breaking into a Queens drug store on a dare shortly after midnight Feb. 15, but that he denied taking anything.

Dems Reported as Ready To Compromise on Tax Plan

By FRED B. WALTERS

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Lawrence today expressed a willingness to compromise on his proposed tax program in the face of opposition among Democratic lawmakers to his 3½ per cent sales levy.

"I'm willing to compromise on anything agreeable," Lawrence told his weekly news conference but then hurriedly denied that he had decided definitely to back a proposed increase of ½ per cent in the sales tax, to 4 per cent.

"I don't want to be pictured as backing a 4 per cent sales tax proposal," Lawrence said.

Lawrence took the recommendations of his bipartisan tax study group in asking the Legislature to increase the sales levy from 3 to 3½ per cent and expand its coverage to some items not exempt.

"We've got to play it somewhat by ear," Lawrence said. "I wasn't that optimistic that the (tax) package would be accepted en toto."

The House Democratic leadership was reported ready to drop the proposed extension of the sales tax to automobile trade-ins and alcoholic drinks sold over the bar.

Lawrence said he planned to talk with Thomas Kennedy and Clifford Hood, co-chairmen of the Tax Advisory Committee which drew up the tax program, this week.

The tax picture was fluid as both the House and Senate adjourned until next Monday when House Democrats will again caucus on the controversial sales tax levy.

Local Truckers Qualify for Safe Driver Awards

Four drivers of Warren Concrete Products Company, have qualified for the "Safe Driver Award" of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association Casualty Insurance Company by driving the past year without a chargeable traffic accident.

The awards, in the form of bronze lapel insignias and certificates, are given to drivers of PMA insured fleets, who drive accident free for one year or longer.

Plans for the presentation of the awards were announced by James F. Malone, executive vice president of the PMA insurance firm. Malone said Leo A. Neubert, PMA fleet safety engineer, will give the safe driving citations to the four Warren drivers at ceremonies to be held in the plant offices at one p. m. tomorrow. William S. Rodger, president, and Harold L. Curtis, vice president, will represent the management of the concrete products company at the ceremonies and join Neubert in

Manufacturers Light Seeks Hike Approval

HARRISBURG (AP)—Manufacturers Light and Heat Co., Pittsburgh, asked the Public Utility Commission at a hearing today to approve a rate increase to balance increased plant value.

The company's seeking an annual rate increase of $6,400,000 to achieve a 6.4 per cent rate of return on a plant value of 140 million dollars.

Present company rates allow the same rate on a plant value of 115 million dollars, the company said. Over 19,000 commercial, municipal and industrial customers would also be affected.

Undercover Spies For FBI Testify Before Committee

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A subcommittee of the House Un-American Activities Committee kept its spotlight today on communist strategy and techniques in the heavily industrialized Pittsburgh district.

The three-man subcommittee called 12 witnesses to testify Tuesday at the opening session of the scheduled three-day hearing here.

Among those called were Mr. and Mrs. Hamp L. Golden of Pittsburgh, who publicly revealed for the first time that they were undercover agents for the FBI in the Communist Party nearly 13 years.

Another witness, Reuben J. Hardin of nearby Large, Pa., testified he served off and on as an undercover man in the Communist Party for police agencies and the FBI from 1931 to 1954.

Golden, an employee of H. J. Heinz Co., said the Communist Party in the U.S. is more dangerous than it appears.

Statehood for Hawaii Becomes Burning Issue

WASHINGTON (AP)—Statehood for Hawaii, an issue in Congress for 40 years, burst into full flame today as both Senate and House prepared to take up the bill.

With passage apparently assured, the big question was which chamber would win the race to act first to add a 50th star to the flag.

In the Senate, the Hawaii admission bill is co-sponsored by 56 senators, more than a majority.

In the House, Chairman Leo W. O'Brien (D-NY) of the Territories subcommittee predicted a margin of 100 votes for the bill.

BREACH IS WIDENING IN THE MIDEAST

By TOM MASTERSON

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Relations between Iraq and President Nasser's United Arab Republic sank to a new low today as a result of the revolt against the left-leaning Iraqi government.

The Baghdad government claimed it had smashed the revolt against Premier Abdel Karim Kassam and reports spread that some of the rebel army officers were trying to escape across the Syrian border. Other reports said fighting was still going on, apparently by desperate holdouts trying to flee the country.

The U.A.R.'s semi-official Middle East News Agency charged that Iraqi planes had shot up a Syrian border village. The agency also reported that Iraqi planes had strafed several Iraqi villages in the Mosul area near the border.

Kassam meanwhile expelled 10 U.A.R. diplomats assigned to the Baghdad embassy, declaring they were a menace to public safety. The Baghdad correspondent of the Middle East News Agency also was ordered out.

Nine of the ousted diplomats arrived in Cairo and reported that the Baghdad government apparently was still digging in for a fight.

First reports of the revolt made clear that the rebellious army officers wanted to swing the Iraqi government toward Nasser and opposed the growing influence of the Iraqi communists on Kassam.

Military governor Ahmed Saleh el Abdi in a broadcast over Baghdad radio blamed a "foreign power" for sparking the rebellion. It was plain he referred to the U.A.R. Street demonstrations staged in Baghdad to support Kassam turned into anti-Egyptian rallies.

Scotland Yard Still Baffled by Theft of Jewels

LONDON (AP)—Flying squads from Scotland Yard raided the homes of two London gang leaders early today but no trace was found of Lady Norah Docker's missing $420,000 worth of jewels.

The two underworld figures had been spotted in Southampton Monday night a few hours before the jewels were stolen in the port city from the Dockers' parked Rolls Royce.

Homes of suspected fences also were raided. The detectives prodded furniture, poked around the floorboards, tapped the walls, peered up chimneys and dipped into water tanks. There was no sign of the missing baubles.

A London insurance firm offered a $42,000 reward.

Lady Norah and her millionaire third husband, Sir Bernard Docker, left the two boxes of jewels and his briefcase in their silver and blue Rolls on a Southampton street while they had dinner Monday night. When they returned the jewel boxes and the briefcase was gone. The car was still locked the windows intact and there were no fingerprints but the Dockers'.

Two Killed in Bus Accident in Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A bustling intersection in downtown Pittsburgh became a scene of horror Tuesday as a commuter bus jumped a sidewalk and plowed into a crowd during the evening rush hour.

Two persons were killed and 16 were injured, four seriously.

The Brentwood Motor Coach Co. bus was approaching a knot of waiting passengers at Smithfield Street and Forbes Avenue when it veered out of control. The driver said his brakes failed.

The bus climbed the curb, cut down a fire alarm pole and a street light then tore into the crowd and nosed against a plate glass display window of Kaufmann's department store.

Three of the screaming victims were flung through the window. Several others were trapped under the bus.

One of those killed was Sam Hood, 40, a reporter and art critic for the Pittsburgh Press.

Also killed was Mrs. Sally Flynn Strait, 54, of nearby Baldwin. She was head cashier at the Roosevelt Hotel.

The stunned bus driver, Jay Lane, was treated for minor injuries and released on $10,000 bond pending an inquest on a technical charge of manslaughter.

Lane was so distraught he was re-admitted to a hospital shortly after midnight suffering shock.

Ten other persons were being treated in three hospitals.

The crash stunned bystanders. Some tagged the bus to free those trapped beneath. Others used handkerchiefs and head scarfs to try to bind the cuts of victims.

Ambulances were rushed from all parts of the city. Hundreds of gaping spectators milled about. Traffic was snarled on busy Smithfield Street.

Parole Racket Being Probed at Western

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Dist. Atty. Edward Boyle of Allegheny County says charges will be preferred within a few days in connection with an alleged parole racket in Western State Penitentiary.

Warden Angelo Cavell said Tuesday two former guards, a present inmate and a former prisoner are involved. Their names were not disclosed.

Boyle and Cavell said the four men attempted to get the families of prisoners send money on the pretext of helping to get their relatives paroled.

Cavell said d prison authorities became suspicious after the Christmas holidays when families of several inmates complained.

CAMBRIA COUNTY MEN INDICTED FOR MURDER

The three pleaded innocent at a preliminary hearing in the fatal beating of James L. Lau of York last Nov. 24.

Lau was found on a road at the outskirts of Altoona and taken to city jail. The next day a turnkey found him unconscious. He died later at a hospital.

CHIEF EXECUTIVE STANDS PAT ON HIS PROPOSAL TO CUT BACK ARMY STRENGTH

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today those advocating greater defense spending should have the courage to demand higher taxes.

And, at a news conference, Eisenhower repeated several times that he believes the nation's defense program is adequate to deal with the situation.

With much emphasis, he cautioned against letting the Soviet Union lure the Western Allies into a ground war in Europe.

Such a war would be a miscalculation on the part of the Allies in the light of Russia's great manpower reserves, he said.

Eisenhower advanced these views in standing pat on Defense Department plans to cut back Army strength from the current 900,000 men to 870,000, and to trim the Marine level by 25,000 men to a new total of 175,000.

He said he can't see anything small about an Army of 870,000 men, and that he doesn't see anything in the planned reduction to get hysterical about.

In response to a question, Eisenhower said he was not ruling out the possibility of a nuclear war over Berlin.

He went on to say, however, that he does not see how such a war would free anyone—apparently meaning he doesn't see how anyone could come out a winner.

And the President said again, as he has before, that if hostilities are started over Berlin, it will be the Soviet Union, and not the Western Allies, starting them.

Much of the President's 20-minute session with reporters was taken up by discussion of the defense picture and the Berlin crisis. This was the eighth regular weekly news conference in a row, tying a mark he set in 1954.

The consecutive string this year adds up to nine and a record if the President's Jan. 14 session with newsmen at the National Press Club is counted.

Today's session touched also on these matters:

KHRUSHCHEV — Eisenhower said that he doesn't think much of Soviet Premier Khrushchev's proposal that Russia and the Western Allies station token military forces in West Berlin.

JOB BENEFITS — The administration is waiting for the various state legislatures to convene, in order to find out what the states intend to do about extension of emergency unemployment benefits.

ECONOMY — A newsman, asking Eisenhower's comment, said some economists believe the automobile and steel industries are keeping their prices up deliberately, even though demand for their products is down, resulting in a sort of administered inflation.

The President replied that it is a matter he did not care to discuss off the cuff—that he would want to confer with his economic advisers.

SPENDING — Eisenhower said a balanced budget is a vital part of national security. He made that remark when asked whether he (Turn to Page Eighteen)

Morse Leads Fight To Limit Draft Extension

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) led a last-ditch fight in the Senate today to limit extension of the peacetime draft to two years instead of the four urged by the administration.

His chances appeared slim in the face of unanimous approval by the Senate Armed Services Committee and previous House passage by a top-heavy vote.

Senate leaders had planned to push the bill to a vote Tuesday night, but they postponed action until today when Morse came up with a long floor speech opposing the measure.

SENATE SHOWDOWN — In the ultimate showdown, most Western officials are convinced Khrushchev will pull back before plunging the world into war. But they also think he will go very close to the brink if he has to in order to test Western determination to hold fast in Berlin.

Local Groups Coordinating Efforts on Behalf of Dam

Members of the Flood Control Committee Warren Area Chamber of Commerce, met in Council chambers yesterday afternoon with the group representing borough council to continue concerted efforts for speedy construction of the Proposed Kinzua Dam project.

Resulting from the session is a definite program of work to develop a publicity committee to publicize further activities of an Allegheny River Reservoir Association and create a definite community interest in all scheduled proceedings and work of the organization.

Bernard Gofberg, vice-president of DeLuxe Metal Company, speaking for the Chamber flood committee, also advises that an attempt will be made to meet with the Seneca Indians and further pursue eliminating the existing barrier to the dam's construction. Erie Jurist Will Rule On Petition In Audit Hearing

President Judge Elmer Evans of Erie County Court has announced that he will render a decision as to whether Judge Alexander C. Flick, Jr. should disqualify himself from hearing proceedings instituted by Warren County commissioners Blaine and Lewis Crippen against the accounts of Prothonotary Ralph E. Sires on Thursday, March 19 at 10:30 a. m.

Evans discloses that the county commissioners had requested that he rule on the petition to disqualify the local judge which was prepared by County Solicitor Richard Leuthold. The petition and other court papers are in Judge Evans' hands.

The commissioners have asked the Warren county court for a new audit of the prothonotary's accounts from 1949 through 1955 inclusive and have alleged improper use of county funds by the present office holder.

In citing reasons for disqualifying the judge, the petition stated he served as county solicitor during the years in question and that it might become necessary to call him as a witness in the case.

Judge Flick was in Erie several days ago to discuss the court matter with Evans who advised him against voluntarily withdrawing and to take no such action until a motion had been made for him to disqualify himself. Solicitor Leuthold presented the motion Monday morning, creating a delay in the prothonotary's scheduled hearing.

Once the qualification question is settled, the court will proceed to consider a preliminary objection to the commissioners' petition filed by Warren County Solicitor Sires' attorney.

Honored in Police Report

The usual outstanding annual report of the Warren Police Department was presented to borough council this week and is affectionately dedicated to Officer "Jerry" Park, above whose tour of duty with the department began June 1, 1919, nearly 40 years ago.

Officer Park, who has become "Mr. Police Force" to many of Warren's adults and children, served two years under Chief Gottlieb Haag with Officers Olson, White, Adams, Wholeben, Willey and Policewoman Mitten. After a brief absence, during which time he engaged in oil drilling, he returned for a short period, and then spent a year in the state police, again joining the local department in 1932. He has had 27 years of continuous service since then.

In his police career he has served under four chiefs, Haag, Wholeben, Haehn and Evan; six burgesses: Gregory, Knabb, Chapman, Steber, Crossett and Rice. As arresting officer, he has appeared in the courts of Justices Davis, Nelson, Evans, Greenlund and Lawson.

"Jerry" can do and does with efficiency every duty required of a police officer and has long been one of the department's best liaisons between force and public. His handling of traffic, parking, juvenile offenders, canine constituents and escort duty, plus the restoration of domestic tranquility to temporarily disturbed homes, are with out peer.

His long years of service result in his working as an "automatic pilot", and his practice of doing promptly whatever needs to be done can serve as a model for rookie policemen.

The Borough of Warren has real cause to be proud of Officer "Jerry" Park.

'Going Steady' Guarantees Boredom for Teen-Agers

If you want to view real boredom drop in on a teen-age dance. Whatever else "going steady" has done for teen-agers it has turned them into a bored generation. Watching them at play is so dull it is downright depressing.

When a party comes along there's no question about whom a girl will go with. That's all settled. As surely as though she were married, she'll go with her steady date.

And when she gets to the party, she'll dance with him all evening. That's understood. And since dancing with one boy every dance gets kind of tiresome, there'll be a lot of standing around and aimless sitting out of dances.

You won't see any flirting. Teen-agers today have a strict code. Flirting with someone else's steady just isn't done.

Even conversation drags. After all, if you've been going steady with the same boy for months and talking to him on the telephone every evening, what is there to say when you get to a party?

If any boys without dates turn up they stand around like lost souls. There are no stag lines anymore—which means there's really no place at a party for stags.

If it's a formal dance are the girls thrilled with their pretty, fluffy dresses? Not much. They've been wearing formals so long the thrill has long since worn off.

Are the boys excited over having dates with pretty girls? Why should they be? Most of them started dating when they were so young their parents had to chaperon them on their dates.

So it's all out and dried and strictly routine. And it's boring.

Just look at the faces at a teen-age party and you'll be convinced that the steady dating that offers teen-agers security is responsible for a malady that shouldn't afflict the young.

Employment in Area Reported In Upward Trend

Employment in Warren County edged upward during the past sixty days according to a report released by Andrew J. Donick, manager of the local Pennsylvania State Employment Service Office. The gain registered by the 48 firms was 60 or nearly one percent. The rise in factories exceeded the net increment, as minor losses were reflected for non-manufacturing.

Mr. Donick indicated that the current level of the firms surveyed continued to be substantially below the figures for 1958 and 1957. The differentials from one and two years ago are 314 respectively. These year to year comparisons, however, are becoming less significant since the marks for both dates are well under earlier peaks.

Mr. Donick noted that there were 1,000 persons receiving unemployment benefits during the last week in February; for the corresponding dates in 1958 and 1957 the totals were 730 and 349 respectively.

For the first time in months, employers' forecasts hint that there may be an upswing in the job total Mr. Donick noted. Recovery of factory employment from its recession low trails the improvement shown by other measures of business activity.

Heart Campaign Successful for McKean County

LUDLOW — Gladys Morelli, Hamilton township Heart Fund chairman, and her sister, Millie, who has been co-chairman, wish to express their gratitude to all contributors and workers who made the 1959 campaign so successful in this area.

They particularly mention the efforts of the school children, using their special Valentine hearts for the campaign; and stated the plastic hearts placed in business establishments had proved most successful. The whole township will be pleased to learn a total of $292.27 was given by local citizens for this worthy cause.

Other committee members were Mrs. Ward Anderson, Mrs. Joseph Kasaback, Mrs. Stanley Carlson, Mrs. Leland Engman, Mrs. Charles Fetzack, Mrs. Homer Gilfert, Alfred Johnson, Mrs. M. J. Jones, Mrs. Eugene Kalin, Mrs. Melvin McCleary, Mrs. Annie Misulich, Linnea Swanson, Mrs. Vernon Swanson, and Mrs. Howard Wolfe, for Ludlow; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Depoto, for farming country; Mrs. Donald Thornton, for Wetmore.

Major Ellen M. Olson has arrived at the G. A. Olson family home after flying from Germany to New York. She has served the past three and one-half years in a United States Army Hospital, has been in the Army Nurse Corps since 1939 and has served all over the world.

She has utilized all her leaves in learning much about the countries in which she has served, as well as the entire area, with travel a real hobby, and collection of unusual mementoes a deep interest. Her many friends welcome her home and hope they may visit with her in the two weeks she will spend with her sister, Tillie Olson.

Dean Walters, recently a patient in Community Hospital, and Mrs. Walters and baby, in Kane Summit Hospital, art thankful to be home again and doing nicely.

Friends will be glad to hear that Mrs. Arthur Hanson, Warren, is recuperating splendidly after recent surgery.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Holmberg, of Jamestown, have been recent callers at the home of Rose Nelson.

Local Hospitals Are On Accredited List

The Joint Commission of Accreditation of Hospitals has published its annual list of accredited hospitals in the United States, its possessions and Canada, with both Warren General Hospital and Warren State Hospital included.

In other familiar areas, where many Warrenites have or plan to study for a medical or nursing career, the document mentions the following: Bradford Hospital; Clearfield Hospital; Hamot and St. Vincent's in Erie; Kane Community Hospital; Children's Hospital of Philadelphia; Phillipsburg State Hospital; Mercy Hospital, Pittsburgh; Meadville City Hospital and Spencer Hospital, Meadville; Oil City Hospital; Jamestown General Hospital and WCA Hospital.

In Buffalo, N. Y., Children's Hospital, Buffalo General, Millard Fillmore and Edward J. Meyer Memorial are also accredited.

Accreditation of a hospital means that it has voluntarily submitted to a survey of its facilities and its patient care. It is a badge of recognition which the hospital can display to its community to prove that it conforms to high standards of patient care.

West liked the double. He was pretty sure that his king of spades would be a trick and South's redouble did not disturb him. East saw no place to go and decided to gamble on a profit against a certain loss.

East won the first trick with the ace of hearts and noted the fall of South's king. West had bid two on five hearts with a

East returned a club. West ruffed and shifted to his fourth best diamond. East's king forced South's ace and South went into a long huddle. Where was the king of spades? East had doubled but he would have been just as likely to double without it as with it. Also West was queen high in the red suits.
After all this celebration South decided to play West for the king. He laid down his ace, dropped it and made the hand.

Low Marriage Rate Reported In State in '58

HARRISBURG — Pennsylvania, with 66,000 marriages last year, had its third lowest marriage rate in the 52 years records have been kept, Dr. Charles L. Wilbur, state health secretary, said today.

The 1958 marriage rate was 5.9 marriages per 1,000 persons. Only in the depression year of 1932 when the rate was 5.8 and 1943, a war year with 5.7 rate, were fewer marriages per 1,000 persons recorded. Postwar year 1946, with 122,349 marriages and a 12 rate, tops all years.

Numberwise, last year's marriage total was the lowest in 11 years. Last year's marriages were 9,000 fewer than the 1957 figure of 75,200 and 11,000 less than the 77,682 reported in 1956.

Low birth rates during the depression years were a major cause of 1958's low marriage rate. Dr. Albert E. Bailey, health department statistical director, said. He forecast a marriage "explosion" between 1966-1976 when the children born following World War II become old enough to marry.

Last year's marriage records for first marriages show 24 years was the median age for bridegrooms while the median age for brides was 22. The median age for brides remarrying was 37 while remarrying grooms were 42 years old.

ANOTHER BOOST FOR KINZUA DAM

In connection with Council decision Monday night to press for early start of construction on the Kinzua Reservoir it is interesting to remind that the board of directors of the Warren County Development Association recently went on record favoring similar action. In the formal resolution adopted at the time the Association urged Congressional approval of funds to enable the Army engineers to proceed as soon as possible with planning and construction of the project.

The resolution was directed to the Appropriation committee of the U. S. House of Representatives.

At the same time the Association released a letter endorsing Congressman Leon H. Gavin's request for an additional $2,000,000 appropriation for the Army Engineers. It is understood the appropriation would finance highway relocation, land acquisition and initial construction. Work would begin as soon as the U. S. Supreme Court rules on the Indian claims. Gavin's request was made after the Administration budget failed to make provision for the dam. The proposal also has been approved by Pennsylvania's Senator Hugh D. Scott, Jr.

The Development Association endorses the dam as a means of preventing flood damage and repeated disruption to existing industry in the county. It states that construction of the dam will make available to new industry valuable plant sites now unusable because of recurrent flooding.

The importance of Warren County's existing resort and tourist industry is also stressed by the Development group. Construction of the Kinzua dam, it contends, will increase "the value of present recreational facilities" by eliminating flood damage to cottages and other improvements. Better summer stream flow in the Allegheny River after the dam is built will "stimulate the development of the county's existing recreational resources," according to the resolution, by improving boating and swimming.

In its letter to Congressman Gavin, the group announces that it will soon receive a comprehensive report from its economic research consultants, Arthur D. Little Inc. of Cambridge, Massachusetts.

"Preliminary reports from our consultants" the group reveals, "have confirmed the Association's view that the dam will have a very beneficial effect upon the development of the county as a major recreation area". To insure that the dam will have the maximum impact upon recreational resources in the county, the Association recommends that "preliminary planning for highway location and land acquisition in connection with the dam should be undertaken immediately."

The Development Association is concerned with promoting industrial growth and economic development in Warren County.

WORLD TODAY

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats and Republicans are on a delicate see-saw which may affect the 1960 elections as well as the national economy.

The trouble is that both sides are involved in economic theories and neither can predict with certainty the result of their actions. President Eisenhower is dedicated to the idea of keeping down government spending in order to balance the budget, which can only be done if the government's revenue from various taxes equals or exceeds its expenses.

There is one way, of course, to be sure revenue is bigger than outgo and that is to raise taxes. No one is talking about that with any enthusiasm.

The Democrats argue there isn't anything necessarily sacred about balancing a budget at a time when 4,700,000 people are unemployed and, they say, the government must encourage sufficient growth.

A couple of examples show the split between Democrats and Republicans on what is needed. The Democrats' on the joint congressional Economic Committee this week issued a report with which the Republican members disagreed.

But some of the Democrats didn't see eye-to-eye on everything and neither did the Republicans.

"While a balance or even a surplus in the budget is desirable in times of maximum employment," the Democratic majority report said, "neither the soundness of our money nor our potential for economic growth and stability in 1959 and thereafter necessarily depends on balancing a 77-billion-dollar federal budget."

The Republicans on the committee denied the Democrats had any monopoly on wanting to see the country grow and accused the Democrats of being "cloudy and unclear."

Eisenhower has repeatedly contended that inflation — or less purchasing power for the dollar — is one of the penalties of unbalanced budget spending.

So much for theory. Meanwhile, Democrats and Republicans are split on specifics.

In a surprise move last week Democratic leaders in Congress called for a one-year extension of the emergency unemployment compensation program voted by Congress last year. It is due to end April 1.

Tuesday House Republican leaders lined up with the President against what they called any lengthy extension of unemployment pay. They specifically hit at extending it a year, but indicated a shorter extension might be considered.

It isn't hard to see the political implications if unemployment continues at its present high level or goes higher.

Then there's the question of national defense. Eisenhower asked for what he considered enough money for this. Democrats are challenging his position on this and are talking of voting more money for defense.

Mixed up in all this are other problems — like the amount to be spent on foreign aid, and so on — but most of them are still in the talking stage.

No matter which side has its way, the economy will be affected. Since both sides are dealing in theories, each can only hope it knows what's best.

When?

Here and There

In a release just received from the Internal Revenue Service, United States Treasury Department, Pittsburgh District Director of Internal Revenue, John H. Binger expresses concern at the slow rate income tax returns are being filed by taxpayers in this district. "We are equipped to process many more returns than we are receiving," he said, "and by filing your return now, fast action can be taken in necessary processing procedure which will ensure your receiving your refund quickly, if you are entitled to one. In fact, if your income tax return is perfect in every detail, and if it is not selected for examination prior to issuance of the refund, experience has shown that refunds are being received by taxpayers within 45 days or less from the date the return is received in our office." There are many taxpayers who have not filed their returns, and who have refunds due them. They are urged to file their returns as quickly as possible. As the filing deadline approaches, so many returns will be filed that a longer delay in processing action will result, and taxpayers will not receive their refunds as quickly as they will if they file now, he said.

With the expanded usage of the card Form 1040-A, many more taxpayers will be able to file their 1958 income tax return on that Form. It can now be used by any taxpayer who has gross income of less than $10,000 consisting entirely of wages reported on Withholding Statements, Forms W-2 and not more than $200 total of dividends, interest, and other wages not subject to withholding. If in doubt as to the correct form to use, or for any other questions concerning your Federal income tax return, telephone your nearest Internal Revenue Service office for information. In Pittsburgh the telephone number is Grant 1-0800. Simply ask for "Tax Information."

Another timely communication in the day's mail brings the information that Frank D. Harriger, of Leeper, has been chosen general chairman for the Easter Sunrise Service for the ninth consecutive year by the members of the Tri-County Men's Club. According to the article sent out from Cook Forest, the Sunrise Service will be held at Ridge Camp Grounds, better known as "The Circle," at Cook Forest State Park, on Sunday morning, March 29, beginning at 7 o'clock. Plans have been completed to erect the speakers' rostrum at Ridge Camp, along with several thousand folding chairs to accommodate service worshippers. The service location is along Route 35 at the top of the hill leading into Cooksburg, traveling from Leeper or from the direction of Brookville. The speaker will be Rev. Lowell Martin of Loysburg, who has a Sunday afternoon religious program over WJAC-TV, Johnstown. The organist will be Jack Russell, 16-year-old Knox resident. He will present an organ recital beginning at 6:30 a. m. A group of 200 young voices from a number of district schools will form the Easter sunrise service choir.

More than $34,000 was loaned this year by the Educational Fund of the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania to students for tuition in medical schools. "To date, 41 applications have been received for the 1959-60 school year," explained Dr. Harold B. Gardner, of Harrisburg, Secretary of the State Medical Society, "and 35 of them were for tuition. The students receiving assistance are attending medical schools in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Boston and as far west as California." Established in 1947, the Educational Fund at first aided only sons and daughters of disabled or deceased members of the State Medical Society, but in 1953 loans were made available also to non-physicians' children who had completed their first year in medicine. The Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania is believed to be the only state medical society in the country to thus aid non-physicians' children. The fund is supported by an annual $3 deduction from the dues of each member of the State Medical Society made possible by an amendment to the constitution. This is also a Pennsylvania first. The State Medical Society being the only such organization to voluntarily vote an annual deduction from the dues to aid needy medical students.

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — The battle over basic economics is out in the open today in Congress.

The fight is over this: Should we have a government planned increase in economic growth? Or should we first scotch the threat of new inflation and let economic growth come naturally.

The Senate - House Economic Committee has split wide open over the issue.

The United States has a long record of economic growth, interrupted now and then by recessions, some with little impact on the over-all economy and its subsequent growth.

It has had also its scattered spurts of inflation. Since World War II the intervals in between have been short. The whitening away at the purchasing power of the dollar has been large.

The two sides to the dispute: 1. At the present time stubborn unemployment totals show that economic growth is not fast enough to keep up with the times. 2. Economic growth is the way of the land and is best when it comes naturally; forced growth programs have too many risks, chief among them being inflation; if the price of goods and services goes up as a result of the scheme, it blacks out the benefits of the souped-up growth.

The case for greater economic growth is strong. We do have a lot of unemployment. If the government did some quick pump priming by more spending and ran up a Treasury deficit that could further increase the supply of money, it might easily mean more jobs, more consumer spending for more factory products.

The value of a normal economic growth is put this way by Guaranty Trust Co. of New York economists: "It takes place as a result of the desire of individuals to better the material condition of themselves and their families. In this endeavor, people save, invest, devise new and better tools, invent new products and new processes, and employ other people in order to operate more efficiently and on a larger scale."

Bank economists, however, warn of the dangers of setting an arbitrary rate of economic growth. In a free economy like ours, one of the freedoms is to make mistakes. The bankers say "only in a society where mistakes are never made can output continuously match full capacity."

Good Friend of Ours From El Salvador Comes Calling

BY PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The United States will pay its respects to the smallest Latin-American republic, when President Jose Maria Lemus of El Salvador comes to Washington March 10 for a 10-day state visit.

Nothing very drastic ever happens in El Salvador—which in itself is newsworthy in these troubled times.

There was a bloodless revolution 10 years ago. A junta of three young army officers—including Lieut. Col. Lemus himself—threw out President Salvador Castaneda Castro. Lemus became secretary of interior and succeeded to the presidency in 1956 for a six-year term.

El Salvador is possibly the setting for some of O. Henry's Central American stories. But President Lemus is more the Horatio Alger type character. He was born of poor parents—schoolteachers—and went to the top from there.

He is 47 and the father of seven children, but only his wife will accompany him on his visit here.

EL SALVADOR IS OFF the beaten track for most American tourists. It's on the Pacific side of the Isthmus. The Pan-American highway is completed through El Salvador. But it's hard to get at because of uncompleted stretches in Guatemala and Honduras to the north, cutting it off from the Gulf of Mexico.

Small as his country is—about the size of Massachusetts—President Lemus will get same big shot treatment given President Frondizi of the Argentine.

There will be a White House dinner, addresses to Congress and the National Press Club, a ticker tape parade down Broadway, then visits to Houston and New Orleans.

PERHAPS THE MOST IMPORTANT aspect of the Lemus visit is that it may give some encouragement to the six-country Organization of Central American States.

OCAS headquarters are in El Salvador's capital of San Salvador. There's a provision in the El Salvador constitution that if political union of the Central American republics is achieved, the country will become a part of it.

Principal activity of the OCAS governing council now is to promote trade and reduce tariffs between its members.

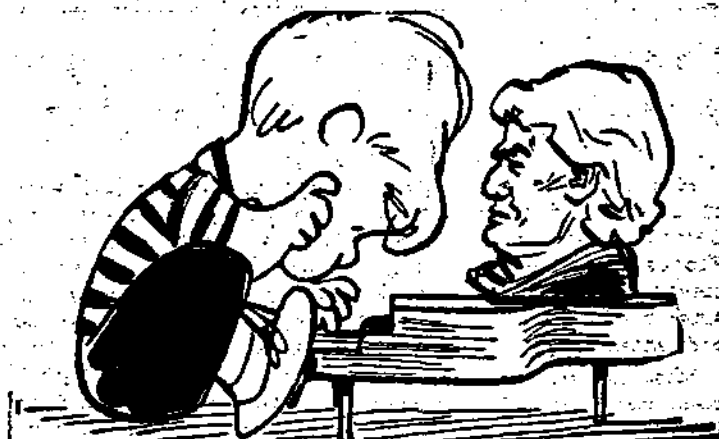

El Salvador is now getting about a million dollars a year in Point Four technical assistance, but it receives no other U.S. aid. There are U.S. Army and Air Force training missions assigned to El Salvador's armed forces, but no other military assistance is being given.

PRESIDENT LEMUS ISN'T COMING HERE to ask for any loans or be handed any grants. What he would like more than anything else is some arrangement for stabilizing prices on his country's two principal exports—coffee and cotton. Depressed world markets have cut prices and reduced his government's tax revenues.

Trade between El Salvador and the United States is around 50 million dollars a year each way. This is far more than trade with Soviet Russia. Incidentally, El Salvador has six political parties but little Communist trouble.

On the whole, relations between the United States and El Salvador couldn't be much better. And this is one of the few areas of the world where this is true, which is also news.

Meet Schroeder

Schroeder is a lover of classical music, firmly believing that Beethoven was the greatest man who ever lived. He is a pianist, a slave to his art as he tortures Beethoven out of his tiny instrument. Schroeder, one of a generation ahead of its time, is the butt of many a joke in "PEANUTS", a comic strip appearing each day on the comic page of the Times-Mirror.

Whirling dervishes are a sect in the Moslem religion. There are an estimated 3,000 in the United States.

SOCIETY

Girl Scout Council Accords Top Honor to Mrs. Johnson

Recognition of service to Warren-Forest Girl Scout Council, dating back to 1937, was paid Mrs. Nelson A. Johnson of 24 Oak street, at the annual dinner-meeting of Council in YWCA activities building last evening.

Always a deep, dark secret until the actual moment the award is made, only the selection committee knew that Mrs. Johnson was to receive the Council's "Thanks Badge", highest recognition paid adult Scouters.

Mrs. Victor Spattfor, recipient two years ago and head of the dinner and award committee made the presentation.

Her husband, Mr. Johnson, was emcee for the program, which followed dinner served at tables attractively set to emphasize the international theme. Flags of many lands, the Girl Scout Swiss chalet at Adelboden, dolls, Dutch shoes and figurines, flowers and candles, with Girl Scout and Girl Guide posters on the walls, and a large cutout replica of the World Scout pin back of the speakers' table emphasized the central motif.

Rev. Ralph Findley, of Grace Methodist church, gave the invocation.

Immediately following dinner, Mr. Johnson presented The Tunicus, popular Barbershop Quartet comprised of Al Scholes, Mac Sears, John Swick and Virg Albaugh, whose selections and wit brought a big hand from the audience of more than 90 persons.

Introduced were Scouters and guests at the head table: Sally Deisroth, field director; Mr. and Mrs. Spattfor; Ursula Johnson, executive director; Mrs. Ralph Van Ord, president, with her husband; Mr. and Mrs. Johnson; Harry Segel, speaker; and Mrs. Segel; the Rev. and Mrs. Ralph Findley; Mrs. Lyon; Mrs. Earl Abel, public relations chairman, and her husband.

Presented next were special guests, Jim Blomquist, Boy Scout Council president, with his wife; Plummer Collins, Kiwanis president, and Mrs. Collins; Ed C. Lowrey; and Mrs. Lyle Schuler, of the Times-Mirror staff; Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Malec; Mr. and Mrs. William Lombard from other news staffs; and Mrs. Clifford Knowlton, office secretary.

Mrs. Van Ord, referring to printed programs, reviewed Council highlights of 1958, the financial statement, membership figures, and camping data. She pointed, with special pride, to registration of 1,019 Brownies in 48 troops; 712 Intermediate Scouts in 54 troops; 104 Senior Scouts in 8 troops; and 607 adults, for a grand total of 2,442 persons actively participating in the Scouting program.

She then read, also from the program, names of Senior Scouts chosen to represent Council at the Round-up in Colorado Springs in July, with their alternates, and concluded with reading of Council officers, committee heads, neighborhood chairmen, members at large, and a word of commendation for the most efficient staff.

Special recognition was given Mr. Collins, for Kiwanis Club, and the Warren Services, Inc. for financial help which has made possible installation of a new filtration system in the swimming pool at Camp Birdsall Edey. Mention was also made of the contribution of Warren Public Library staff in helping 53 girls earn badges in literature.

Pointing to Council's growth in numbers and program in recent years, Mr. Johnson made

Fashion Show for the Very Young

Shown above in a McGarry Photo is the scintillating talent displayed when children of Young Mothers' Study Club, dressed in Easter finery, showed the latest fashions for tots, toddlers, and regular sizes from Porter's Children's Shop.

The affair was staged at the home of Mrs. George Templeton, Jr., 14 Conewago avenue.

The general theme of the show was developed around a familiar nursery rhyme, "The Old Woman Who Lived in a Shoe", with staging and commentary done by Mary Harland.

The shoe, designed and executed by Mrs. John O'Hara and daughter, Pat, proved a marvelous facsimile and added a note of realism to the event. A selection of 24 kiddies' favorite rhymes was played on the hi-fi as proper background to this modeling by the lollipop set.

Participating were the little Misses Pam Logan, Debbie Schorman, Nan Sealise, Laura Emhardt, Kathy Fanartis, Lisa Tranter, with Masters Danny Templeton, Kim Haggerty, Tommy Wolfe, Chuckie Reese and Tommy Bright.

Mrs. Ella Porter, owner and manager of The Children's Shop, presented each youngster with a well-filled basket for the sweet tooth, and expressed her thanks to the group for its cooperation.

Easter baskets, stuffed toys, and other items carried by the youngsters were made available through the courtesy of the G. C. Murphy Store; spring plants were from Warren County Florists' Association.

Following the informal modeling, the business meeting of the club was conducted and refreshments served. Mrs. Thomas Schorman was general chairman for the March meeting and Style Show.

conjunction with that country's 10th anniversary of independence and the annual conference of the United Jewish Appeal organization.

With a map in illustration, he described the country, its people, historical and Biblical sites, programs for youth and the aged, its plans for reclamation of the land and rehabilitation of the people who have come from 70 different nations.

In conclusion, he emphasized that all ages are actively involved in the growth and progress of the country, and described its citizens as a people so dedicated that nowhere else have so few done so much in so short a time.

Advice for Newcomers-- Simply Be Neighborly

If you want to get along in your new neighborhood—Be nice to the kids. Get a reputation for being a "crank" with the children—and there won't be much of a welcome for you from their parents.

Don't encourage a gossip neighbor to tell you all about the other neighbors. If you do, you'll have preconceived notions that may influence your own judgment.

Be considerate of your neighbors in small ways, such as keeping your yard neat, not letting your children become a nuisance, seeing that your dog doesn't bother anyone, not being a habitual "borrower."

Be friendly and neighborly without making a nuisance of yourself. Your neighbors may not have as much time to kill as you do—so don't waste theirs.

Take advantage of opportunities to be helpful. These arise in every neighborhood from time to time and taking advantage of them requires only a little imagination and a readiness to be of help.

Never run down one neighbor to another. If you don't especially care for a particular person, at least stay on speaking terms and do nothing to influence others to feel as you do.

Don't take up your children's squabbles. Left alone, fighting children will soon be friends again, but let the parents get into the fight and there will be real and lasting bitterness in the neighborhood.

Following these few rules ought to enable you to get along happily in any neighborhood you choose to live in.

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Edmund Lowe was backstage in a melodrama, clapping a couple of coconut shells on a piece of marble to simulate the hero's approach on horseback. This was for a play-within-a-play sequence in the new film, "Heller With a Gun," starring Sophia Loren and Anthony Quinn.

It recalled another scene, another show.

VALONE'S SHOES

TIMES SQUARE WARREN, PA.

"I was playing at the old Burbank Theater in Los Angeles in 1915," he remembered. "Dustin Farnum was starring in 'The Virginian' and I was playing Trampas. They needed some offstage sound effects when Dustin rode up for his entrance, so I supplied them with the coconut shells on marble."

This was Edmund Lowe of 1939 talking. He had just passed his 67th birthday, but he looked backward only briefly.

"I think this part will be good for me," he remarked with enthusiasm. "I play an old ham—and I do mean ham—with a traveling stock company in the West. It's a meaty part, and I'm hoping it will get me into the character field, which is where I want to be."

His casting was the brainchild of Director George Cukor, for whom Lowe last worked in "Dinner at Eight" 26 years ago. It marks a new surge of activity for the actor.

"I was quite sick four years ago," he explained. "Since then I've done a couple of pictures for John Ford. One was 'Wings of the Eagle.'"

In recent years, he has made 78 Front Page Detective segments which have played over and over again on TV. Between jobs, he leads a quiet bachelor's life, entertaining friends at his comfortable Bel-Air home.

Lowe's long list of credits include the first outdoor sound film, "In Old Arizona," and 10 Quirt-Flag pictures with Victor McLaglen. I asked him what he thought of today's movies.

"They're too long," he commented. "Most stories can be told in 90 minutes."

Forest County Pond Owners Plan Meeting

To study the factors which make a pond a place for good fishing, pond owners of Forest county and vicinity will meet in the court house, Tonawanda, on Monday evening, March 16 at 8:00 o'clock.

Robert G. Wingard, wildlife extension specialist of Penn State, will show slides and discuss management practices that make for good fishing.

In Circular 432 "Fish in Your Pond," Wingard states: "Fish and fishing are not the most important uses for farm ponds. Few ponds are built primarily for fish production. But it's a sure bet that fish and fishing, along with swimming, boating, and skating, can give you more fun than all the agricultural purposes put together. Certainly these are the real reasons for putting fish in a farm pond—fun, sport and recreation. Aside from the fun, many ponds provide worthwhile fish for the frying pan. Not only the farm family, but neighbors, friends, and folks in the community should enjoy fishing in thousands of ponds in the State."

Men in Service

SIX-MONTHS CRUISE

Navy news dispatches bring reports two local men are aboard ships leaving for duty in the Mediterranean area. Dean A. Foote, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Foote of Warren RD 1, is a fireman apprentice aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Franklin D. Roosevelt, with the Sixth Fleet. The Roosevelt left Mayport, Fla., with other ships of the Second Fleet for exercises in the Atlantic en route to the Mediterranean. A seaman apprentice aboard the destroyer Massey is Charles L. Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Jackson, of Grand Valley RD 1, who left Norfolk, Va., for six months with the Sixth Fleet. The Massey, part of an attack carrier striking force, will relieve a similar unit upon arrival at its destination.

TIMELY NEWS FOR VETERANS

Korean veterans in the Pittsburgh area attending night school or taking other part-time training over an extended period may soon have to reckon with the time element in their GI benefits. Alvin Guyler, Manager of the Pittsburgh VA Regional Office, warned today.

Under the law, a Korean veteran must begin his training within three years of his discharge; however, VA must cease to finance educational costs on the eighth year after his discharge.

Mr. Guyler gave this example: A Korean veteran who was discharged January 1, 1952 can receive no further school checks from VA after January 1, 1960. This veteran may be planning on one more year, starting next fall, to reach his goal on a part-time basis. It is suggested that GI trainees in this predicament take additional subjects to accelerate their courses or plan to attend school this summer.

The VA official said that many veterans, who delayed their training for nearly three years after discharge and now are enrolled in night school degree study while working days may get caught in this "termination-date squeeze" because they don't realize the implication of the eight-year requirement.

THE RUMOR MARKET

Rumors persist that plans are under way for construction of new buildings at the foot of Market street near the Nu-Way Supermarket, for chain outlets. An authentic source advises the Times-Mirror no leases have been signed, but negotiations are in the making, and definite announcement may be expected within the next few weeks.

Mirrored in Our Times

Local golf addicts who have been concerned about the stubborn weather which refuses to blow them even a practice swing, may find comfort in a portion of a story from an area newspaper dealing with a horse that made a pig of himself at Edgewood Country Club. Greenskeepers spotted a big brown plow horse comfortably munching on the sixth green. Jumping into the nearest vehicle, the keepers ventured to end the repast only to see the horse gallop off leaving a trail of huge divots into the soft turf. Turned out that when they left the animal alone, he continued to munch; if they gave chase, he hooves over the course to pieces. Eventually corralled and led away, the horse gave one wistful backward glance at the delicious food. Comment department—"that nag gorged himself on some of the finest grass ever raised by man."

Sunday's "Parade" included this one by Jack Bailey, identified as his favorite joke—"I like best the one about the cannibal who went to see the psychiatrist. After listening to the cannibal for about an hour, the psychiatrist turned to him and said simply, 'The trouble with you, old boy, is that you're just fed up with people!'"

At this particular time of year, lots of us can feel fed up with lots of things, including those very tired articles of clothing that have come through a hard winter! Topcoats have taken a terrific beating during the past months, and chances are many men are seeking something fresh, new and versatile. The trip aimed to find just such an item is a short one—just head downtown and stop at—

The Style Shop, where the latest "toppers" are now on display. There's news in fashion and news in fabric this season. You'll enjoy seeing spring's colorful ties and interesting shirt patterns, too—all selected to best suit you. The time is now, the prices right—the place is a community favorite—The Style Shop.

Guess everyone in town agrees that to have the annual Warren Police Department report dedicated to Officer "Jerry" Park was an inspiration. The genial gentleman is familiar to every local citizen, young and old alike, and certainly represents the department in a manner ideal to a police officer. One thousand may seem like a lot—and in most instances it is! But when one hears that 1000 boxes of a famous name candy are to be given away FREE, the amount decreases quickly due to the popularity of the item involved. Should such an unusual offer involve a street corner concession, one might be reluctant to purchase same. However, should a local establishment (a family store since 1891), make such an offer, how can you miss? The alert shopper knows quality and demands the very best. The same shopper is prone to implicitly trust a specific retailer...and why not?

Why not take advantage of the Fanny Farmer Special? Come in and pick yours up absolutely free at The Warren Drug Store. Naturally the supply is limited, but it's not too late for you to enjoy famous Fanny Farmer sweets. Candies of matchless flavor, Fanny Farmer serves you at The Warren Drug Store.

If you read your local evening paper when some of the rest of us do (i.e. "about now")—may we say—"good night and pleasant dreams"—what happens to time? Guess we'll have to find time to figure out the answer!

Outdoor Manners Project Being Well Accepted

The Good Outdoor Manners Education Project is receiving excellent endorsement by the public in Pennsylvania, according to word received from A. C. McIntyre, project chairman. The project, initiated by the Pennsylvania Forestry Association, developed from repeated expressions of concern over the destruction of public property and abuse of privileges at parks, camp sites, and highways, and the indifference of "recreationists" to the rights of landowners, and the apparent assumption by some that the outdoors was theirs to monopolize as fancy dictated.

The project, initiated at the beginning of the year, is conducting a prize award contest that will seek an appropriate name for the trade-marked Racoon. Students of all grades, in any school of the Commonwealth, are eligible to participate in this contest. Since the contest closes on March 15, teachers should distribute entry blanks and encourage them to be sent in if they have not already done so.

Mr. McIntyre says that requests for "book marks and contest entry forms" came in at a rapid rate and that they have now been sent out at the rate of one book mark for every five students in our Pennsylvania Schools. Over 4,000 have been distributed in Warren County.

The prejudging committee of Garden Club women is doing an excellent job with the approximate 700 contest entries that pour in each day. Already their records show that over 1000 names have been proposed for the racoon symbol. Such public response is, in large measure, due to the fine cooperation of the nine agencies and organizations that are participating as sponsors in the State:

Penna. Agricultural Extension Service.
Penna. Department of Forests and Waters.
Penna. Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs.
Penna. Fish Commission.
Penna. Game Commission.
Soil Conservation Service—Penna. Izaak Walton League of America—Penna. Division.
Penna. State Grange.

Blueberry Hill, its lofty 200-acre spread across the top of a mountain in Elk township, near Scandia and 12 miles from Warren, will receive a decided impetus this week toward ultimately becoming an important resort and recreation area of Northwestern Pennsylvania. Due here to spend Friday and Saturday and to start lay-out of an 18-hole golf course is James G. Harrison of Turtle Creek, member and former president of National Golf Course Architects' Society.

Plans of Charles P. Irvin and Richard P. Campbell, developers of the large property, who have engaged the noted golf course designer, call for the first nine holes to be completed and ready for play in June of 1960. The course will be a gently rolling plan with great natural beauty and two ponds to serve as water reservoirs. Not only will there be golf, but plans call for swimming, tennis, horseshoes, picnic area, skiing, tobogganing, and, of prime importance, a building lot development program which will be illustrated in brochure soon to be issued.

Incorporation papers under Blueberry Hill Development, Inc., are being filed this week by Atty. John H. Stewart, himself an Elk township property owner, for Irvin, Campbell and the third incorporator, William R. Simonsen, Sr., well known insurance man of 824 Pennsylvania avenue, East.

Story of Blueberry Hill reads like an old-time Horatio Alger novel. The spot itself, reached by driving four miles north of Scandia to Lounsburg's Corners, then left one-eighth of a mile, is steeped in scenic beauty. On the roadside, Irvin and Campbell have erected Blueberry Inn, a rustic structure with immense fireplace, which is licensed to serve food and all legal beverages and which will be used as a club house. During winter months, the inn is open only week-ends; from 6 p.m. Friday until 2 a.m., and on Saturday from 1 p.m. until 12 midnight. During the past year, in addition to completing the building and equipping it with modern plumbing and heating, they have worked on through summer, fall and winter to clear the land, burn brush and do as much as possible before actual construction will start. With Architect Harrison starting his lay-out this week, it is expected that, weather permitting, brush and dirt will start flying on the mountaintop by April 1.

"After looking at the land," said Mr. Harrison on his first visit to Blueberry Hill, "and spending a day here, I will say without a doubt that I can supervise the construction of a golf course which will be top in the area and rank high in the state. The rolling terrain and sandy soil for drainage makes an excellent natural layout for a fine golf course."

It was pointed out that the property, a plateau on the mountaintop, will provide excellent light for play. It is the highest point in Warren county, the second highest point in Pennsylvania.

Irvin, who served in the Navy, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Irvin, 401 Conevango avenue, and Campbell, an Army veteran, is the grandson of Mrs. Sally Campbell. Clarendon. They were outstanding athletes in Warren High school, graduating in 1951. Their interest in sports has carried over the years, and if the success of Blueberry Hill basketball team is any indication, the resort itself will be a success, the Hill team having won this year's Warren Y-City League title. Blueberry Hill will sponsor the following team in the 1959 Kinzua Valley Golf League: Skip Morine, Leo Salerno Sam Cerando, Chuck Irvin, Frank Russo and Joe Gorfida.

Completion of the Blueberry Hill golf course and addition of other attractions will aid in making Warren county attractive to vacationists and sportsmen, the young men firmly believe. No membership program will be considered until the season of 1961, the opening season to be operated on a greensfee basis.

AP's All-State One of Youngest Smallest Teams

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The 1959 Associated Press All-State Scholastic Basketball Team announced today is one of the youngest and shortest in stature in many years.

Five lads recognized for their defensive as well as offensive ability were named to the first team by sports editors and sportscasters throughout the state.

The first five in the statewide voting consists of Jim Curry, Altoona; Granny Lash, Chester; Richard Allen, Wampeter; Ralph Hayward, Philadelphia Overbrook, and Carlisle's Mike Washington.

Honorable mentions went to Warren's outstanding player, Nick Creola; George Dewey, Titusville; Don Steepe, DuBois; Bob Lynch, Franklin; Harry Whitman, St. Marys; Esker Smith, St. Vincent; Ralph Berg, Port Allegany; Rick Renwick, St. Marys. Sports writers of Section II area will release the Section All-League team Thursday.

Each of the players selected for the No. 1 All-State unit was the key to a successful season for his school. As a unit, based on team records, these five lads would score at a 104-point-a-game clip. Three of the boys, Curry, Lash and Allen, are only juniors. The team averages a small 6-1 in this day and age of outsized basketball players.

The voting indicated there was no one player who stood above the rest as in the years of Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain and Tom Gola, a pair of standout Philadelphia high school players in recent years.

The second team choices were Jim Chacko, Charleroi; Ed Pfeiffer, Allentown Central Catholic; Willard Somerset, Farrell; Chip Oldt, Easton, and Rinaldo Pecile, Hazleton, who also was a second team All-State football choice at guard.

Investigation of P.I.A.A. Gaining Ground in House
HARRISBURG (AP) — A proposed legislative investigation of the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Assn. gained support of the House Democratic floor leader today.

Rep. Stephen McCann (D-Green) expressed in strong terms his displeasure with the PIAA's failure to use the State Farm Show Building for any of its inter-district basketball playoffs.

McCann is a member of the General State Authority which last year approved a $100,000 expenditure to install modern new basketball facilities at the building.

The PIAA's failure to schedule playoffs at the arena prompted the request for an investigation in a resolution proposed Tuesday by Rep. Samuel W. Frank (D-Lehigh).

McCann said the resolution probably would go to the Rules Committee which he heads.

New York Fight Fans Excited by Contract News

By MURRAY ROSE

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—This city's capture of the Floyd Patterson-Johannson heavyweight title fight for Yankee Stadium June 23 is just the beginning of a drive by business interests to make New York a flourishing sports center again.

"This fight means 60 million dollars in business for New York," said Bill Zeckendorf Sr., hotel chain owner and realtor. "We and the other business interests in New York were determined to get the fight."

"This is just the beginning. We intend to bid for major league baseball, football and other boxing shows. This is only in our self-interest. Whatever we lose to other cities means a loss to hotels here and other businesses."

Disc promoter Bill Rosensohn disclosed at a press conference Tuesday that it was "a dramatic, last minute guarantee of $600,000 by Bill Zeckendorf and his son that swung me in favor of New York City."

Cage Tournament At Kansas City In Second Round
KANSAS CITY (AP)—The National Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament moved into its second round today and the champion of the last two years, Tennessee A & I State, again appears to be the class of the field.

Tennessee A & I, first all-Negro team ever entered in the six-day, 32-team tournament, was in high gear Tuesday night in defeating a well prepared Nebraska Wesleyan team 75-57.

The same big three — Dick Barnett, John Barnhill and Jim Satterwhite — that led A & I to its other NAIA crowns again got the job done for the speedy Tennessee club. Barnett scored 29 points.

Madden, Record-Smashing Relay; Event Disqualified

Slippery Rock swimming team ended with a first place tie with Carnegie Tech in the Penn-Ohio Conference swim meet last Saturday. Competing was Pat Madden, former local star, with the 'Rock fish.

Both teams rounded out action with 62 points. It would have been possible for Slippery Rock to win the meet by 20 points if their opening 400-yard medley relay, on which Madden swam the 100 yard breaststroke in 1:10.0, had not been disqualified. In this event, Slippery Rock broke the Penn-Ohio record, former local star, with the 'Rock fish.

Suffering the disqualification, Slippery Rock was unable to score what would have been a new Penn-Ohio point record, with a 76.

Madden ended the dual meet season with 84 points to top second in team scoring. Ending the season, Pat had a triple victory at Penn University, and he also scored a double at West Virginia, winning the 200 breaststroke and 200-yard butterfly at both places; also opening relay at Penn.

Next Saturday, Slippery Rock hosts State Teachers College Championships. 'Rock aquatic stars are favored to win. Madden is seeded number 1 in 200-yard breaststroke. He may be participating in the national meet at Muncie, Indiana, March 18-21.

Smoky Burgess now is in the Smoky City, where as catcher for the Pittsburgh Pirates he removes some of the pressure on Ed Bailey, the big Cincinnati Reds receiver. Bailey was a disappointment last season when he hit only .250 in 112 games. He may have been somewhat off balance knowing Burgess was waiting in the wings. Burgess appeared in 99 games in 1958, and usually caught the second game of a doubleheader.

Burgess was sent to Pittsburgh in the deal that brought Frank Thomas, the Pirates' demon third baseman, to Cincinnati.

Gloves Tourney at Chicago Reaches The Semi-Finals

CHICAGO (AP) — Twenty-two young men aiming at eight individual titles battle in the semi-finals and finals of the Golden Gloves Tournament of Champions in the Chicago Stadium tonight.

The top performers will represent Chicago in the intercity bouts against New York March 25. These also will be held in the stadium.

New York's squad completed its tournament in Madison Square Garden last week. Two defending champions—both representing Toledo, Ohio—will be in contention tonight. They are flyweight Gil Yanez and middleweight Wilbur McClure.

McClure will meet Herbert Wills, Cincinnati, for the championship but Yanez will have to battle his way through the semi-finals of the 112-pound division before getting a chance to defend his title.

Navy Stands Out As Team To Eye In NCAA Tourney

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer
Unsung Navy stood out today as the team to watch—if not the team to beat—as the NCAA basketball tournament moved toward its weekend regional double-headers at Charlotte, N. C., Evanston, Ill., Lawrence, Kan. and San Francisco.

On a night when West Virginia won its first NCAA tournament game in five years of trying, Navy emerged with most of the attention after beating North Carolina, 76-63.

The Middies, as well balanced and finely tuned as a machine, simply dismantled Frank McGuire's rebuilt Tar Heels in the windup of a first round Eastern regional tripleheader at Madison Square Garden.

West Virginia—an 82-68 winner over Dartmouth's Ivy League champions, and the Middies advanced to the second round with Boston University, Marquette and Louisville.

West Virginia scored its long-awaited victory—ending a jinx of four straight first round defeats, and Boston U. whipped Connecticut with a spectacular rally, 60-53, in other New York games. With St. Joseph's Pa., the Middle Atlantic champ which drew a first round bye, the three winners set up camp at Charlotte Friday and Saturday to pick the Eastern region's representative for the national semifinals at Louisville, March 20.

Marquette whipped Bowling Green 89-71 and Louisville turned back Eastern Kentucky 77-63 in first round play in the Midwest regional at Lexington, Ky. They join defending NCAA champion Kentucky and Big 10 champ Michigan State in the Midwest wrapup at Evanston, Friday and Saturday.

Detroit's Howe Supplying Fresh Data for Records

By The Associated Press
Detroit's Gordie Howe has supplied some fresh data for the endless debate—who's the greater hockey player, Howe or Montreal's Maurice (The Rocket) Richard?

The two have been the dominant figures in the National Hockey League for more than a decade. They are the most prolific scorers in league history.

In Tuesday night's lone NHL game, Howe equalled another of the records The Rocket set with the Montreal Canadiens. He triggered his 29th and 30th goal of the season for the Detroit Red Wings in their 5-5 deadlock with the Rockeetless Canadiens.

It was the ninth time in the last 10 seasons Howe has reached the 30-goal milestone. Richard, however, has scored 30 times in nine different campaigns. He wasn't in Detroit to watch Howe notch his two markers. The Rocket, recuperating from a broken leg, was in Czechoslovakia, attending the world amateur championships.

Charleroi Meets Farrell in WPIAL Class A Playoff

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The WPIAL Class A basketball championship will be decided tonight when defending titlist Charleroi meets Farrell in the Pitt Fieldhouse.

Avonworth won the WPIAL Class B crown Tuesday night by defeating McDonald 77-63 at the fieldhouse. The winners will represent District 7 in the PIAA Class B playoffs against Gallitzin of District 6 in a western region game Friday night.

DuBois advanced in the PIAA Class A tournament by defeating South Hills of Pittsburgh 64-44 at Mount Lebanon. DuBois will meet Erie Strong Vincent Saturday night at New Wilmington in another western region playoff.

With Vince Perziale bagging 27 points on shots from every angle DuBois had little trouble in eliminating the Pittsburgh team.

The Beavers put together a strong attack to lead by a wide 37-16 margin at halftime. Big Don Steppe contributed 17 points to the DuBois attack and furnished good rebounding strength.

Big Klu Looks Good In First Appearance

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP) — Ted Kluszewski looked his old self in his first exhibition appearance of the spring.

Although he was hitless in three trips to the plate Tuesday, the big Pittsburgh Pirate first baseman swung as loosely and freely as in the days before an ailing back took most of the punch out of his bat.

Kluszewski remarked later that his back didn't bother him. Rocky Nelson, up for another try in the big leagues, helped his own cause with a pinch hit single that drove in two runs to help the Pirates whip the St. Louis Cardinals 4-1.

Five young wranglers, students at Sam Houston elementary school in Midland, Tex., ready a calf for branding while their classmates lean on the corral fence to kibitz. Holding the animal, from left, are Gerald Nobles Jr., William Anthony, Forrest Edwards and John Cusack. Applying the iron is Clarence Scharbauer III, son of the ranch's owner.

Both planes remained aloft and later landed safely at southwest Idaho's Mountain Home Air Force Base—after circling for hours to exhaust their fuel.

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — Rep. Helen Wells of Torrance County rose in the New Mexico House to speak for a bill that all community property should go to a surviving widow in case of a man dying without leaving a will.

She said: "This is a good bill. I don't feel like arguing about it. So if you gentlemen will just agree with me, there will be no argument."

There was no argument. The bill passed unanimously.

Young Janitor

(From Page One)

Comments from Chief See and H. J. Sherwood, supervising principal of Youngsville High School indicate that the young man had an excellent record prior to the arson incidents. While attending high school he was an outstanding athlete, attracting considerable attention as a track star in this part of the state. An honor student, he was extremely popular in the Youngsville community. There appears to be little doubt but that Wood is considered "basically a good boy". He also served two years with the US Army, receiving honorable discharge and, according to Principal Sherwood, had been doing an excellent job as janitor.

Both fires were started in the evening in the elementary school building while basketball games were in progress in an adjacent building. The first fire was contained in a teacher's desk where it was set. The second blaze caused about $500 damage after the youth fired several cartons of waste paper. He was overcome while fighting the second fire.

Wood pleaded guilty before the Peace Justice Fred Berry at Starbuck and committed to Warren county jail in lieu of bail.

Earlier he had submitted to a de detector test by a polygraph expert and as a result had been the prime suspect in the case.

gerous now than ever before because it operates underground through various front organizations.

Golden said he joined the party in August, 1946 at the request of the FBI. His wife joined a year later.

"We were told our principal target was labor unions, particularly in the steel, electrical and food industries and in industries with defense contracts," said Golden.

Closed-door sessions Monday and Tuesday produced only strife on the sales tax measure designed to raise 264 million dollars in the next two years as a keystone of Lawrence's 400-million-dollar tax package.

There were indications that a compromise might be sought on elimination of provisions to tax trade-ins on automobiles and beer and liquor purchases.

Asked about this possibility, Rep. Stephen McCann, Democratic floor leader, told newsmen, "If that's what you heard, that must be the proposal."

The potential revenue loss by removing trade-ins and across-the-bar drinks from the proposed sales tax extension would total 101 million dollars. It would leave a 25-million-dollar gap in the tax package even if the rate were hiked to 4 per cent.

A 4 per cent rate would likely arouse labor opposition to the sales tax program. Labor members of a bipartisan tax study committee supported the 3 1/2 per cent but emphasized they had reservations about such a stand.

McCann said, however, he planned to confer with Lawrence by the weekend on the entire sales tax dilemma. There was speculation that the governor may call in recalcitrants seeking their support of the bill as it now stands.

Other legislative developments:

Annual sessions—A Senate committee approved for floor action a House-passed measure to hold sessions of the Legislature annually instead of one every two years.

Investigations—A special five-member Senate committee announced it would start an investigation next week into the operations of the Public Instruction Department.

Taxes—The House Democratic caucus also reportedly talked about changing the base for paying the sales tax on trade-ins and across-the-bar drinks.

courage to back higher taxes to pay for it.

He was obviously still standing pat on his defense program in the face of Democratic criticisms.

Eisenhower was asked for his reaction to Khrushchev's proposal for a four-power guard in West Berlin.

The President replied with some asperity that he doesn't ever expect to be in the business of reacting instantly to one of Mr. Khrushchev's wisecracks or whatever the Soviet Premier calls them.

The free world is going to use the same democratic procedure that the United States uses in dealing with such problems, Eisenhower said. He said that is the process of debate before decision.

Iraq of taking "provocative measures against the U.A.R." As yet, however, there was no retaliatory expulsion of Iraqi diplomats from Cairo.

Details of the army revolt were still sketchy.

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic accused Iraq Premier Abdel Karim Kassem today of adopting a hostile policy toward the U.A.R. and of changing the original course of the Iraqi revolution.

Speaking to crowds of demonstrators who chanted "Kassem is a traitor," Nasser launched his first direct attack on the leader of Iraq's Communist-influenced government.

Nasser called the Communists "agents of a foreign power."

C. of C. Directors Consider Activities

Directors of Warren Area Chamber of Commerce met in regular session last evening at the Blue and White restaurant to consider current activities and hear reports from the various committee heads.

Merle Kremer, flood control committee chairman, advised the board as to proposals advanced at a joint session with borough council members held earlier yesterday afternoon in regard to Kinzua Dam construction, the amount of which appears elsewhere in today's Times-Mirror.

Confirmation of the March 23 arrival of Samuel Hoffman, new executive vice president to the Chamber, was presented along with general subjects as to the status of the organization at the present time.

Nothing specific in the line of Industrial Development was forthcoming but the Retailer's committee announced that plans were under way for the Parking Authority to have its solicitation ready to get under way by the month end for action early in April.

Sweeping Inquiry Into Welfare Dep't Looms

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Senate Rules Committee today studied a proposal calling for a sweeping investigation of the Public Welfare Department's spending policies.

The probe was asked in a resolution sponsored by Sens. Albert R. Peckham (R-Armstrong) and Frank Kopriver (R-Allentown) and referred to the committee Tuesday.

It proposed appointment of a five-member committee to conduct the investigation.

The public welfare agency was created last June with merger of the Public Assistance and Welfare Departments.

Luce Confirmation May Be Delayed for a Time

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee may delay until after Easter approval of Clare Boothe Luce's nomination as ambassador to Brazil.

Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La.) said that some of the members would allow time for a "cooling-off" period before acting.

He said some members are concerned because of the publication in the Latin American edition of Time magazine of an article blamed for setting off anti-American rioting in Bolivia. Mrs. Luce's husband, Henry R. Luce, is editor-in-chief of Time.

Arrested for Plotting Death of Crippled Wife

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Police arrested a wealthy hotel man today and accused him of attempting to hire a man to slay his estranged wife, a cripple.

Taken into custody was Kris Albert, 46, owner of the Sea Breeze Hotel at Avalon, Santa Catalina Island. Police said he denied planning a mercy killing of his wife, who he has paid $450 monthly support since their separation in 1954.

Mrs. Albert, a victim of multiple sclerosis, is the mother of two teen-age daughters.

Cute Red-Head Breaks Male Barrier in Michigan Univ.

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Things are different now in the naval architecture classes at University of Michigan.

The men no longer tell salty stories, and they outdo themselves in being polite.

Prof. Harry Benford says, "I used to begin my class sessions by saying 'Men, today you will... Now I begin by saying, 'Ladies and gentlemen.'"

Pretty red-haired Judy Robinson of Monroe, Mich., was the first coed to break in the exclusive male circle. Now a senior, she broke down barriers in the Naval Architecture and Marine Engineering Dept. for Susan Ott of Dearborn, Mich., and Darlene Pinner of Libertyville, Ill., who are sophomores.

"I was scared to death at first because the fellows pretended to be rather unhappy about my being here," says Judy. "But I guess I've been accepted by now for they elected me, appropriately enough, purser of the Quarterdeck Society."

As a freshman, Judy joined a sailing club and became interested in naval architecture. Susan figured the only way she'd ever get a sailboat would be to build one. Darlene liked math and physics and figured it would be appealing to be a boat designer.

Rotarians Hear Fine Report on Foundation Fund

"Over the half-way mark" was reported for the current campaign to add $5,000 to the Permanent Endowment Fund of the Warren County Probation Association, at Monday's meeting of the Warren Rotary Club.

The total reported as donated to date in this, the fifth annual campaign to add to the Permanent Endowment Fund, is $2,957.66.

The goal of $5,000 has been achieved in each one of the four preceding campaigns. Judge Alexander C. Flick, Jr., Chairman of the Youth Committee of the Rotary Club, and also the original promoter and a member of the Board of Directors of the Warren County Probation Association, reported that 167 persons and organizations had made contributions during the past two months. These donors include 16 of the Parent-Teacher Associations in Warren County, Patriotic and Veterans organizations, several church groups including the Warren Ministerial Association, Service Clubs, Fraternal orders, and other organizations including the Warren County Central Labor Council.

Urged by Judge Flick to continue their good work, the Rotarians were reminded that none of the monies donated in these campaigns are spent. They are all turned over to The Warren Foundation, Inc., which keeps the monies invested and returns the income to the Probation Association. This income is then delivered to the Warren County Commissioners to help improve the probation services for boys and girls under the age of eighteen.

The members of the Rotary Club were also reminded that one of the long term goals of the Warren County Probation Association is to build up the Permanent Endowment Fund, by continuing the Annual Campaigns, until it is large enough to materially help the County Commissioners in establishing a County Home or Farm where boys can be sent in lieu of training schools.

Any size gift, sent to Mr. E. C. Rasmussen, Treasurer of the Warren County Probation Association, Warren National Bank, to the Warren Rotary Club, or to the Court House, will be added to the Fund and will help promote this project.

Annual Report Of Police Dept Shows Busy Year

Warren residents should note with considerable interest facts set forth in the annual report of the local police department which covers all activities for 1958. Although space does not permit a complete account of every detail, commendation is due the department for an outstanding record noted to date.

Police calls answered totaled 1479; minor investigations, 263; major investigations, 49; funeral traffic directed, 8; doors found open or unlocked, 264; fire calls answered, 68; stolen goods recovered, $4808.95; goods recovered not stolen, $730; requests and complaints by phone, 2624; guarding money in transit, 247; dog law violations, 39; court appearances, 41; justice hearings attended, 22; transient lodgers, 457; street light outage reported, 344; bikes registered, 1102; firearm school attendance, 16 men; talks and lectures, 25; automobile accidents investigated, 162; summary arrests, 124; misdemeanors, 39; felonies, 7; traffic, 1027; and parking tickets, 3028.

Borough ordinance violations and warnings totaled 139 arrests made; $1071 fines assessed and $1046 collected. Fourteen defendants served time in jail; vehicle code arrests totaled 1010; $5285 fines payable to the borough; 153 payable to state and 24 to county. Parking meter collections amounted to $23,787.42 in 1958.

Last year recorded 203 accidents reports, no fatalities; 77 injured, sixteen of which were pedestrians with property damage amounting to $66,016.00. Investigations included 106 larceny (under $200) complaints and 9 over $200 with two armed robberies also listed.

Issued from the Burgess office were 33 licenses and permits to total $307.

Many other facets of police work are factually presented in the annual document, with a notation to the effect that during the past year the department last two men. Officer Gogolatz resigned July 31 to go into private industry and Officer Nelson on December 31 to move to Florida. One man joined the force, Officer Tridico, who started duty August 25.

SEWER ASSESSMENTS

John H. Bingler, District Director of Internal Revenue, said today that his office is receiving many inquiries from taxpayers concerning the deductibility of sewer assessments and sewer rental payments for income tax purposes. Sewer assessments are not taxes. They are in reality assessments for local benefits. Assessments for street, sewer, sidewalk, and other like improvements are not deductible for income tax purposes. They tend to increase the value of the property and thus are added to the cost of the property. Monthly charges made for the use of a sewer system is not a tax. It is in the nature of a service charge and is a nondeductible personal expense. That part of such charge as applies to income producing property is a deductible non-business expense.

WARREN, PA., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 11, 1959

$9,000,000 For a Progressing, Modern Warren

Dedication is planned for Sunday, April 12 on the new educational, fellowship and worship rooms of First Lutheran Church at East and Third avenue. Above structure, Indiana limestone-brick exterior, contains classrooms for all departments of the church.

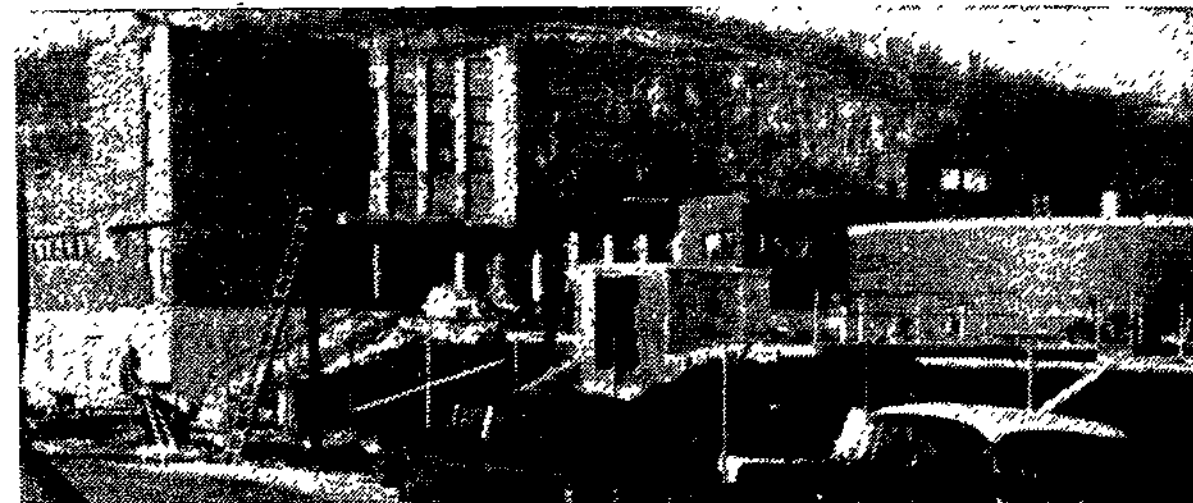

January's high water failed to contact the new Riverside Lanes on Warren's west side due to the foresight and remembrance of the owners, Johnny Young and Fred Baldensperger. The 16-alley bowling emporium was opened to area keggers early in January. First weekend fans rolled 2,236 games, according to automatic pin-spotting equipment.

Two Warren residents, George Carlson and Jack Katan, are responsible for the above structure on the three-lane at North Warren. The building, which someday may be surrounded by a plaza-type affair, will house a Quality Market grocery store by early summer.

Real savings and conveniences of large super markets will be available to shoppers in the new Ralph's Market at Conewango avenue and McPherson street at their opening sometime in April. The store is copied from plans of stores on west coast and New York City; a small super market laid out in a larger concern's manner, giving shoppers benefit of a compact shopping area in a small "neighborhood super market."

Nearly all of the $250,000 federal aid has been paid to Warren Borough on their $1,125,000 sewage treatment plant on the old "brewery" grounds on Warren's south side. On December 31, Borough officials were on hand at the plant when partial operation of the treatment was started. Dedications and public inspection is planned in early spring.

Another completely new structure in Warren's vast expansion program is the St. John's Lutheran church pictured above, located in Pleasant township.

Local Construction And Expansion Programs Are Evidence of Development

Nine million dollars is a lot of money?

It may be in some cases, but the staggering amount is currently being spent (and has been spent) here in Warren Borough and in very close outlying areas.

The $9,000,000 figure, of course, is very flexible in either direction, as an exact cost of the varied phases of construction around can't accurately be determined, especially with most buildings nearing the halfway mark in completion, or as in other cases, actual construction hasn't started but an estimated cost is available.

The photos on this page will present the biggest portion of the costly construction locally. Further along in this story will be brief outlines on each, plus some discussion on other possible expansion programs and development of commercial establishments in the locale.

Times may be bad, but in a town of 15,000-plus, contractors, building material suppliers and sub-contractors and their workmen are enjoying relatively good times. It must be remembered that the millions being spent here is toward a progressing, modern Warren and vicinity. This feature does not mention the numerous residential alterations and additions and several other industrial and commercial remodeling and construction jobs that have been completed in past couple of years.

Biggest attraction right now seems to be the new Warren High School which promises to eat up at least $3,000,000. This figure, it will be noted, consumes about one-third of the lump sum mentioned earlier. It has been drawn out that the new school does not contain a lot of unnecessary beautifying exterior decorations, but rather is a good, solid construction. It is to be built on the Swick site above Fifth avenue.

Groceries, Churches First
Grocery stores and churches seem to head the list of construction of additions or alterations. Ralph's Market on Conewango avenue will soon sport new premises; a Quality Market is currently being completed on the three-lane in North Warren. There is a possibility of a three- or four-store plaza being built in Warren borough near Nulway on lower Market street.

Ralph's Market is patterned after stores on the west coast and New York. Giving large super-market features in a smaller area, passes the larger store savings on to the customer. Ted Ralph, owner and operator, calls his new premises a "neighborhood super market." Located on Conewango at McPherson, opening is expected in April. Expanded lines of the well-known delicatessen foods, groceries and drugs will be featured.

Entire ground floor will be devoted to sales area only, with all storage and warehousing in the basement. This is the unique feature that has proven itself in the New York and western stores. The ground floor contains 4,200 feet of sales area, including 40-foot coolers of self-service fresh meats, 42 feet of dairy produce and a 52-foot section of frozen foods.

Conveyor system will bring produce and products to the store from the basement. Freight trucks will unload in rear of the store, shooting their goods into the basement via chute, avoiding confusion inside the store and unloading in front.

Rerouting Jackson Run, George Carlson and Jack Katan are in the process of finishing another super market, a Quality Market store, near Mid-Town Motors in North Warren. The large lot owned by the two Warren men gives ample room for future expansion into varied types of stores.

Latest variety self-service display racks will be installed. Produce, choice grade meats, cut and wrapped on the premises, assuring freshness and quality, will be featured. June 1 is planned for possible opening. Black-topping of parking area has yet to be done. Three high pipes protruding above the front of the store, will hold the Quality Market sign.

It was noted that Jackson Run was banked to provide flood protection.

Workmen are nearing completion on First Lutheran Church's strikingly beautiful new addition in which departmental Sunday school classrooms, church offices, pastor's study, fellowship halls will be contained. Rev. F. B. Haer, pastor, said dedication date has been set for Sunday, April 12. Complete arrangements will be announced later.

Work has progressed steadily since ground was first broken last April. Features of the Indiana limestone-brick building is an intercom system in each room, acoustic ceilings and cork flooring.

Worshippers at St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church boast one of the most modern, outstanding churches in this entire area. Consecration of the altar marked opening services in the church on Jan. 11.

Parishioners of St. John's Lutheran church in Pleasant Township are expecting completion of their new church on June 15. Rev. J. Edward Lilja, pastor, said dedication will probably fall on June 23, St. John the Baptist's day.

Nave of the church will seat 133 with choir space for 17. Educational wing will accommodate 120 at tables, 150 in folding chairs. Sunday school space will hold 100 children.

Bell tower work has been completed and the new bell was installed this morning by workmen. There is about 4,400 square feet in the new structure, brick walled inside and out with laminated cedar beams for ceiling decking. The entire edifice is of contemporary design.

Sporting Arenas
Roller skating enthusiasts will be glad to know Warren's modern skating rink, largest in this entire section, will be open for skating March 20. A quick tour around the premises revealed a startling large and beautiful rink, one which Warren can truly feel proud of.

Tony Pelligrino, Kane, is owner and operator of the fabulous rink. Lobby, containing ticket booth, check room, skate room and a refreshment stand, is 16 by 140 feet, with modern, pleasant rest rooms at the far end. Skating area itself measures a whopping 60 by 144 feet. Birch paneling features the lobby with a shaded gray paint on walls.

Ladies' room is finished off in pink, men's to be done in a creamy tan.

Area bowlers had a new emporium opened for their enjoyment in January when John Young and Fred Baldensperger opened another exciting structure, Riverside Lanes. The 16 alleys are located just yards from the skating rink on the west side.

Hundreds of bowling fans flocked to the opening weekend. Automatic pin-spotting equipment registered 2,236 games rolled.

Industry Grows
Need for more elbow, and breathing room at New Process Company and Pennsylvania Furnace and Iron brought about the construction of additions to each concern.

Crammed quarters at New Process due to their growth, required an additional wing. In it will be featured a new receiving department on Third avenue. This department with space and easy entrance, will do away with the "bottleneck" receiving from an alley on Hickory street.

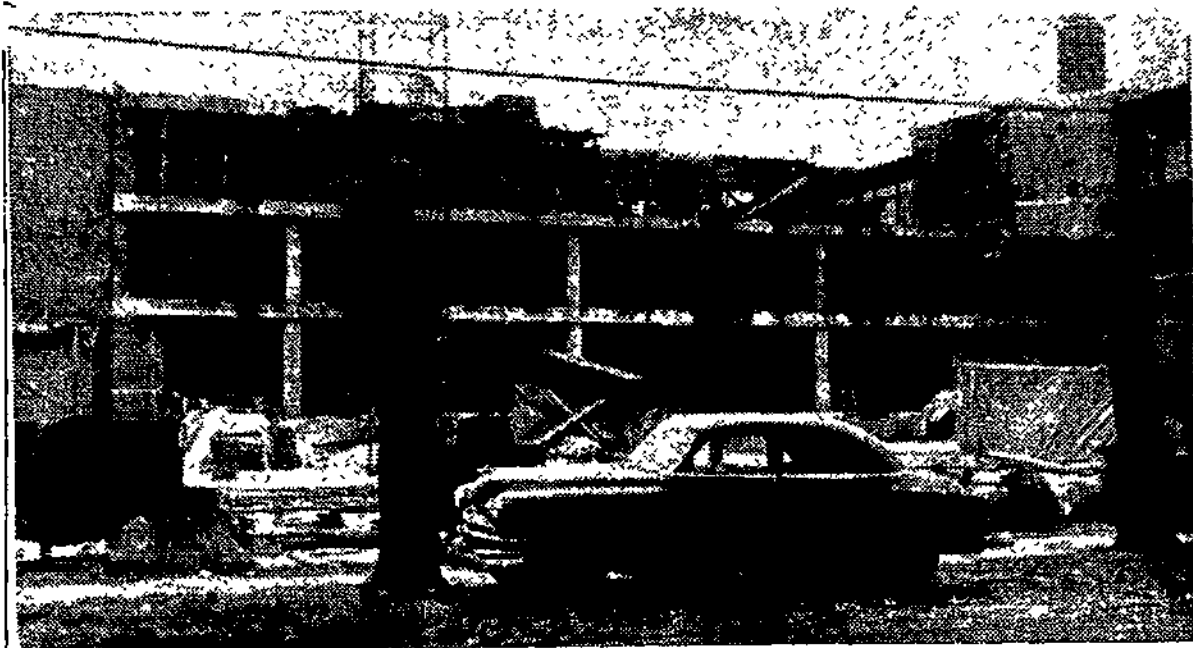

Office space and storage are also included in the new three-story structure. Management has expressed hope for occupancy by mid-summer. Reinforced concrete is the main material in construction.

Penn Furnace's new 265 by 80-foot wing will develop a quick assembly line in construction of tanks for trailers and trucks. Some minor changing of equipment throughout the shop will be so arranged in conjunction with the new addition to complete an efficient assembly line. A paint booth formerly across the street, will be transferred to the cement block building, equipped with new gear, making it possible to paint a 35-foot tank within minutes. Operations are expected to begin within 10 days in the newest expansion.

It is interesting to note that the architectural design of the wing along Pennsylvania avenue eliminates use of pillars or center posts inside, making one large work area unobstructed by bothersome posts.

Motels on List

Floyd Russell is in the process of preparing a stretch of land on the Three-Lane above

Need for more "elbow" room at progressing New Process Company, necessitated the construction of above addition on Third avenue. The unit will be divided into three apartments—age, shipping and office. Area in front (shown) will be used for receiving instead of the troublesome alley off Hickory street.

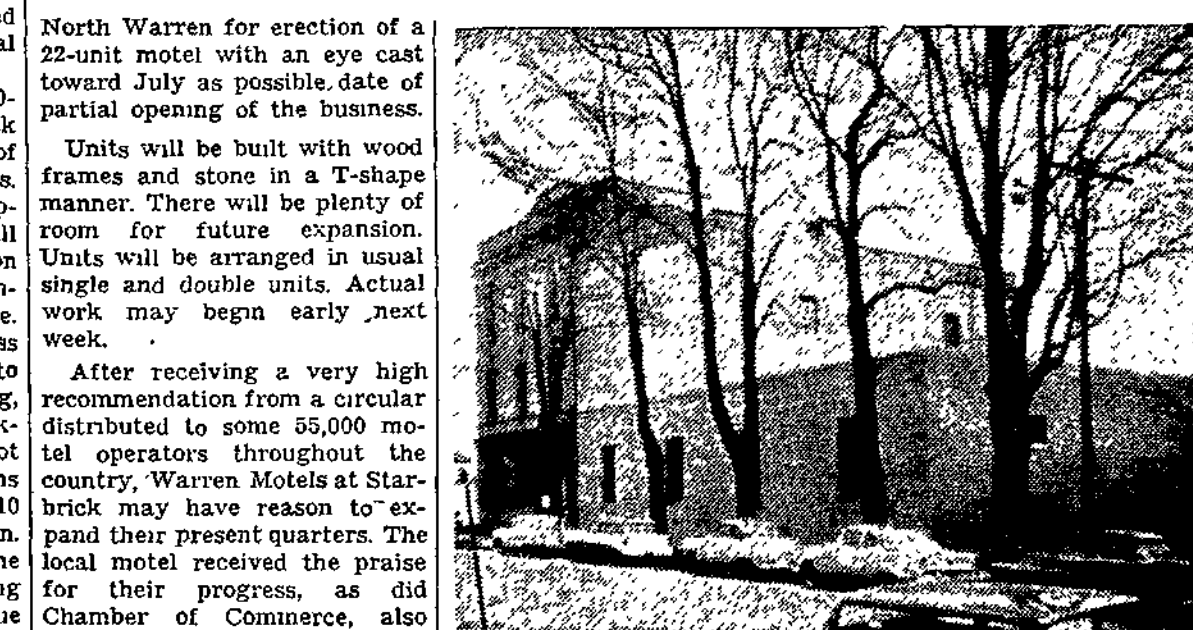

Roller fans are anxiously watching the progress of a most modern skating rink at the borough line on the west end. Tony Pelligrino, Kane, owner, hopes for an early spring opening. New type of flooring has just been laid on the large skating area.

Its tower which fast became a landmark in Warren, is now another beautiful part of the new St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church on Pennsylvania avenue west. Solemn high mass concluded impressive ceremonies making consecration of the altar on Jan. 11.

A 265- by 80-foot work expansion area will be occupied by Penn Furnace and Iron within 10 days. The addition is instrumental in formation of a fast, efficient assembly line in construction of trailer and truck tanks. Outstanding feature of the huge work space is the absence of post or pillars, due to the architectural design.

Work is being pushed for the operation of Warren's new dia system by June as work crews labor around the clock preparing the local exchange for the big changeover. Above one floor addition to Bell Telephone Building on corner Pennsylvania avenue west and East street houses the complex dia system.

Gigantic Self Service Modern Cowdrick Drug Store To Have Initial Opening Here Thursday

Establishment of Store Here Has 58 Years of Experience Incorporated

Debut of Cowdrick's Walgreen Agency Drug Store in Warren tomorrow brings to this area a colorful, experienced parade of history, both in pharmaceutical needs and merchandising.

Other Cowdrick stores whose success stories speak for themselves, are located in Clearfield, DuBois and Philipsburg.

The local store at 212 Liberty street marks another milestone in the Cowdrick history. The store, in the renovated Woolworth building, gives Warren and vicinity one of the finest and most modern drug stores in western Pennsylvania.

Sherman T. Cowdrick, owner and operator of the Cowdrick Drug Stores, said it is his policy to always give the public what it wants. Installation of this new store is a result of the public's growing preference for self service shopping. This observation was based on a careful survey made of the great popularity of these type stores in other parts of the country. Best from each of the stores was incorporated into the plans for the new Cowdrick Walgreen Agency Drug Store here.

Closely paralleling the rise of other great American industrialists, the story of the late C. R. Walgreen, Sr., founder of Walgreen Drug Stores and Walgreen Agency Plan, is the story of preserving man with an unshakable idea.

The year was 1901. Round steak was selling for around 15 cents a pound. Jim Jeffries was heavyweight champion of the world and our national debt amounted to only $14.98 per capita.

A veteran of Spanish-American war, a young Illinois farm lad found himself in Chicago on the threshold of choosing a career that would ultimately make his name synonymous with better drug stores. The young man was C. R. Walgreen, Sr. The decision that was destined to make him famous was one that called for investment of every cent he had and could borrow, in the purchase of a small drug store on Chicago's south side.

Physically, there was nothing to distinguish Walgreen's first drug store from the thousands of others. Ornate red and green liquid-filled globes sparkled in the store window, etc. However, beyond this traditional similarity, there was something that distinguished Walgreen's first store. It was a drug store with a personality.

Just one revolutionary idea Walgreen had was home delivery of customers' orders. Although home delivery was already an established practice with drug stores, Walgreen had an idea to make his a little faster. As the customer read over the phone to the druggist his needs, Walgreen would call off the items to the clerk who would assemble the products and rush them to the home. Walgreen would engage with the purchaser in a conversation, and more often than not, the order would reach the home before the phone conversation had terminated.

It is only logical that a store with such revolutionary ideas about service to the customer should not only succeed but become a cornerstone for a national empire of such stores as well.

Establishing himself in leadership in retail drug field for his own stores, Walgreen considered the broad field of independent retail pharmacy. He developed the Walgreen Agency Plan. The plan packaged a service to independent druggist, giving him benefits of Walgreen's mass operations without jeopardizing his independent status.

A registered pharmacist himself, C. R. Walgreen, Jr., today carries forward the family tradition of leadership in retail drug business. As president of Walgreen Company, he heads the operation of more than 400 company-owned stores.

Mr. Walgreen said that hun-

Hastings Native Is Manager and Pharmacist in New Cowdrick Store

ROBERT FRYCKLUND

Two capable pharmacists will be in the prescription department throughout the store hours daily to professionally fill prescription needs, exactly as the doctor orders.

Robert Frycklund, a native of Hastings, will serve the local Cowdrick Drug Store as manager and pharmacist. A graduate of University of Pittsburgh School of Pharmacy in 1954, Bob has had one year of service with Cowdrick as pharmacist in their DuBois store.

Single, Frycklund will make his residence in Warren to serve the Walgreen Agency drug store here.

Dressing of windows continues behind the sheets of paper at Cowdrick's Drug Store at 212 Liberty street. Workmen were continuing preparations to place the new sign when above photo was taken.

Sherman T. Cowdrick, Jr.
Drug Store President

Starting in the drug store business in 1925, Sherman T. Cowdrick, Sr., is principal stockholder and part owner. Mr. Cowdrick has been in Warren in recent days supervising the work prior to the grand opening of the Cowdrick Walgreen Agency Drug Store here tomorrow. He will be present for the opening Thursday.

A native of Clearfield where he was born in 1903, Mr. Cowdrick attended Clearfield public schools, graduating from Clearfield High. In 1924, he graduated from Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science.

Upon graduation, Mr. Cowdrick was employed by Stewart Drug Store in Clearfield. In 1925, he and a brother, the late Dr. Arthur D. Cowdrick, purchased half interest in this store. In 1928 they purchased the entire stock and interest, renaming it Cowdrick's.

His drug business has expanded through the years. In 1933 he opened a store in Philipsburg, moving it to a more modern store in 1949. In 1938, he opened a store at DuBois.

Married, he and wife Delphine live on a farm near Clearfield.

Sherman T. Cowdrick, Jr.
Vice-President

A hunting and fishing enthusiast, Sherman T. Cowdrick, Jr., is vice-president of Cowdrick's Drug store and supervisor of work in the stores.

Also a native of Clearfield, Sherman attended Clearfield High School, graduating in 1933. He then entered Penn State for four years majoring in science and business administration. In 1937 he graduated from Penn State University with a BS degree.

The 23-year-old man has been in Warren in recent days assisting with supervision of shelf stocking and readying the concern for grand opening tomorrow.

Sherman owns a farm at Litz's Bridge, RD 3 Clearfield, where he lives with his wife Charlotte, who he married in 1957, and a son, Sherman T. Cowdrick, III. Combining farm efforts with his father who owns the adjacent farm, they have 40 head of cattle. The farming is more or less a hobby for the Cowdricks.

Sherman also enjoys model railroads and record collecting. Concerning his career, Mr. Cowdrick said it is "wonderful, a great field."

First Store of Its Size in This Part of Country Merchandising History

In line with the company's forward-looking policy, Cowdrick's Walgreen Agency Drug Store will observe grand opening of their completely new and modern headquarters on Liberty street in Warren tomorrow.

Located in the former Woolworth building at 212-214 Liberty street, it will give Warren and vicinity one of the finest and most modern drug stores in the tri-state area.

Since the initial opening of a Cowdrick store in Clearfield in 1925, the firm has continued to offer the finest products available in prescription, cosmetic, tobacco, sundries, hardware and household goods from their complete lines.

The new store makes merchandising history for Warren, being the first completely self service drug store of anywhere near this size to be installed in this section of the country.

From over 40 varied departments, heavily stocked with a wide selection of commodities, Warren area shoppers can make selections and compare values at their own pace.

Renovation of the former Woolworth store began early in November with installation of steel beams in the ceiling and removal of several floor-to-ceiling posts. An entire new floor was laid. Front of the store underwent a face lifting with sidewalk-to-ceiling windows enhancing the latest in store design and merchandise in the spacious drug center.

A single set of doors allows customers to enter the emporium into an atmosphere of serene astoundment. Gleaming white shelving laden with the developed lines of products and merchandise are flooded with the bright-as-day lighting from fluorescent light tubing — an illumination augmented by natural daylight which flows in through the store's huge wall of glass sidewalk-to-ceiling windows on Liberty street.

An electronically operated "gate" opens when a padded area is activated by the touch of a foot, opening the vast area of self service. On the opposite side at the store's front is a fast, courteous checkout counter.

On either side of the concern a total of 220 feet of wall shelving provides one of the outstanding self service features. Carried on the wall-length shelves are complete lines of cosmetics, toiletries, dental needs, health aids, hair preparations, medications, vitamins; also departments for films and cameras, candy and smoking needs. A special baby department holds a full line of canned baby foods as well as infants' needs, making an efficient one-stop department for the busy mother.

Self service counters mid-section in the store supplied with glassware, toys, gifts, electrical appliances, school supplies, housewares, biggest gift and greeting card department in all Warren, 16 ft. of cabinets stocked with the greatest selection; custom jewelry, stationary, first aid and hospital supplies, sundries, kitchen needs, pet supplies, sporting goods, and dozens of other items.

In the rear away from the busy store traffic, where surveys show customers prefer it, is the prescription department, serviced by the top pharmaceutical houses in the country. With the latest in pharmaceutical equipment and a wide stock of fresh, potent drugs, it reflects the store's continued emphasis on the compounding of prescriptions as "the most important single thing in its business."

Two pharmacists are on duty throughout the store hours, namely Robert Frycklund and John Crone, both graduates of University of Pittsburgh, school of pharmacy.

Added features for customer convenience is a self service ice cream cabinets, constantly well-stocked with a national brand of ice cream. Almost 2000 pints of ice cream will be carried in reserve supply in special refrigerated storage to keep the cabinets stocked. Self service cases, conveniently located just outside check-out counters, will hold 800 pints.

Other features in the gigantic new self service drug store include wide roomy aisles and special-design shelves from which shoppers may select purchases without uncomfortable stooping or reaching.

Hours for Cowdrick's Drug Store are 8 a. m. to 10 p. m. daily, 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. on Sunday. Special hours on opening day Thursday will be 9 a. m. to 10 p. m.

Experienced, Dedicated Men In the Prescription Department Here

To assure dependable prescription service to their customers, Cowdrick Drug Store Inc. have placed in the Warren store two pharmacists, both graduates of Pitt's School of Pharmacy.

John Crone, pictured, is one of the two experienced and reliable pharmacists dedicating his knowledge, skill and years of experience to prescription service. John will also serve the Cowdrick Drug Store on Liberty street as assistant manager.

Free Gifts, Prizes

Patron's of Cowdrick's Drug Store on Liberty street during their grand opening Thursday, will be given free gifts all during grand opening sales which continue until Saturday. Free prizes will also be awarded, grand prize being a 21 inch GE table model TV set which will be given away Saturday evening at 8-30. To the first 500 ladies attending grand opening Thursday, will be presented a rosebud. Stop and shop at Warren's most modern self service drug store.

dreds of products, covering a wide range in the drug and cosmetic field, are manufactured in the huge Walgreen Company laboratories in Chicago.

"It is well known to the trade and also to the public," he said, "that no finer research for manufacturing control is common in the manufacture of such items. In this manner, the public has definite assurance from the greatest name in the drug business that the product offered is fresh, pure, efficient and properly described."

Cowdrick's Prepared To Satisfy Ad Scanners

Have you ever spied a wonderful bargain in a newspaper ad and hurried down to the store, only to hear the heart-breaking words, "Sorry, all sold out"? Frustrating, isn't it?

But it's a story with a happy ending at Cowdrick's Walgreen Agency Drug Store on Liberty street whose bargains in drugs, cosmetics and other home needs you'll find in the special five pages of ads tonight and regularly in Times-Mirror.

Thanks to a little gimmick called, an "oversold coupon", you're sure to be satisfied, no matter when you get to the store during sale days. Like a rain check, it lets you come back later in the week when the item's again in stock and triumphantly carry it off at the advertised price!

"We think it's the only fair thing to do", Mr. Cowdrick said, whose main aim it is to keep every one of his customers satisfied.

Bargains may also be found in sundrie goods, candy department, toiletries, hair preparations, etc.

The sign which will be part of the Cowdrick Drug Store is the latest type used by Walgreen Drug Agency. It measures 38 feet long by 3 feet wide and features red and white coloring, same as the departmental signs within the store. "Cowdrick's Walgreen Agency Drugs" is the lettering.

PATIENCE

Our Pharmacist is a man with professional patience . . . He takes the time and care to check and recheck each instruction . . . he performs each step with precision and utmost care. Patience is a part of the personal responsibility he takes to insure that your prescription is filled — exactly as your doctor ordered.

Experience, skill and knowledge of the pharmacists of the new Cowdrick Drug Store, combined with a complete line of pharmaceutical needs from the top pharmacy houses in the country, are incorporated into a prescription department, unequalled anywhere in this entire area in the new Walgreen Agency drug firm here.

Located in the rear of the store from the busy store traffic where customers prefer it, prescriptions can confidentially be trusted to John Crone and Robert Frychlund, pharmacists, to be filled with "just what your doctor ordered."

"Exacting scientific control of America's many modern drug manufacturing laboratories coupled with their mass production methods is one of the most important factors in maintaining our country's high national health level," L. R. Saunders, district manager for Walgreen Agency Division, said.

"It is because of these laboratories, which are capable of following exacting formulas in mass productions, that Americans are able to purchase needed drugs and remedies in their local drug stores at prices which make them available to all," added Saunders.

And such is the case in Cowdrick's ultra-modern store here on Liberty street, celebrating their grand opening Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Above shot of the prescription department shows the completely stocked shelves with trusted names. The refrigerator shown in front, contains biologicals, such as insulin, which must be kept refrigerated for the protection of the buyer's health.

Returning to the mass production at Walgreen's laboratories, Saunders recalled: "Drugs, such as aspirin tablets, are being produced today with many times the uniformity of quality and effectiveness and sold at a fraction of the cost to the consumer of a few years ago. Thus, because of the large scale operation in preparing standard remedies, benefits in the form of a better product at the lowest possible price is passed on to the consumer."

Saunders said that the control exerted over these products is so careful that every single item leaving the laboratory has been double-checked for purity and formula accuracy.

Passing of Resolutions Is Major U.S. Indoor Sport

By ARTHUR EDSON
WASHINGTON (AP)—In some countries, if you don't like the way things are going, you grow yourself a beard or go throw rocks at an embassy.
In this nation it's usually simpler, though less dramatic. You pass a resolution.
Statistics aren't available, but we must hold the resolution-passing record. Get a few of us together, and instantly we're in a "Be it further resolved" mood.
This has become so routine that we no longer think much about it. But Wednesday's issue of the "Congressional Record" illustrates the point.
Five pages, mostly in small type, are needed to present the resolutions that tell Congress how it should go about its work.
Although this isn't always true, most of this listing of petitions come from state legislatures. They evidently have a few solutions left over from their own work, and so are happy to pass them on to Congress.

Take Wyoming. Its legislators seem to have been worrying about the federal income tax—as who hasn't?—and have come up with a simpler solution: Let's abolish it.
They propose an amendment to the Constitution that would, among other things, repeal the income tax amendment and "thereafter Congress shall not levy taxes on personal incomes, estates, or gifts."
No suggestions as to where the money would come from then. But no matter. There's plenty of time for plenty of resolutions if it ever happens.
Alabama wants an amendment to protect states' rights. Idaho would like to protect the cobalt industry; Colorado thinks it's time to start moisture studies in the Great Plains region.
But the nice thing about the petition game is that anybody can play.
So the city of Mayfield

Heights, Ohio, gets in its 10 per cents worth. It says Congress should call off the 10 per cent tax on phone calls.
The Houma-Terrebonne, La., Chamber of Commerce believes that two bayous in that neighborhood should be declared non-navigable.
But no matter how lofty the cause, or how relatively insignificant the complainer, each has a right under the First Amendment to make the pitch.
"Congress shall make no law," the Constitution says, respecting "the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the government for a redress of grievances."
So we have been peaceably assembling and petitioning ever since.
We just never seem to run out of grievances.

Stevenson's "Treasure Island" Still Favorite

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Robert Louis Stevenson's "Treasure Island" appears to have slipped a bit in the estimate of younger readers, but it still has a lot of partisans among the oldtimers who read it years ago.
An announcement by a committee of public school teachers that Stevenson's juvenile classic was to be dropped from the list of approved textbooks caused little concern among the kids, but their elders raised a flurry about the matter.
George Eliot's "Silas Marner," and Alfred Lord Tennyson's "Idylls of the King," were also among the classics which were dropped in order to make room for works more akin to modern pupils' tastes.
School Supt. Allen H. Wetter hastened to reassure the book-lovers who were raised on those literary staples. He explained Friday that dropping a title doesn't mean the book is discontinued for use in school libraries. The old standbys are still on the list of approved collateral reading.
"Books remain in the libraries and are used with care until they are worn out," Wetter said.
"By that time, in the case of a classic, the title will probably reappear on the official list to permit replacement," he added.

Bit of Imaginary Humor Is Still Being Kicked Around

Editor's note: Remember the story about the baby sitter who was stuck for hours to a toilet seat? It brought chuckles everywhere. But a similar story, varying only in minor details, has been getting laughs for 25 years.
ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Everybody has to set the record straight once in a while.
So here goes.
A few weeks ago there was a funny story about a baby sitter who got stuck on the job—because her employers forgot to tell her they had just painted the toilet seat.
Fun is fun, but it turns out that this bit of imaginary humor apparently has had the greatest workout in the history of indoor plumbing. It has been tossed around the world for years.

This week the insurance man responsible for the latest revival—and who claimed it actually happened—did a little record-straightening in the matter.
The St. Paul Dispatch, which published the original story after the insurance man vouched for its truth, conducted two subsequent investigations and came to the conclusion the tale was fiction. The paper printed a second story expressing skepticism.
The insurance man, however, still sticks to the story as firmly as the baby sitter reportedly did to the toilet seat, although he now attributes it to a friend who attributes it to another friend and so on.
Similar efforts at pursuit over the years also left everyone wind-ed.
At any rate, while it was still going, the latest edition of the aging yarn stirred up a good many new chuckles across the country.

The Dispatch's Jan. 23 story carried this headline: "Baby Sitter Unwillingly Stuck To Her Job." A note proclaimed the account to be true but with names omitted "to protect the injured."
The Associated Press checked the insurance man who had related it to the newspaper. He stoutly vouched for its accuracy. The AP distributed the story on its nationwide wires.
Palmer Hoyt, editor and publisher of the Denver Post, remembered that one of his reporters tried to pin down a similar story about 25 years ago while he was managing editor of the Portland Oregonian.
From Charles Nichols, news editor of the Toronto Telegram, came word that his wife read of a similar incident in a novel the very day the latest version was published here.

World's Most Mechanized Post Office Now Operating

President Eisenhower pushed a button at the White House at 10:45 a. m. March 3 and placed the world's most mechanized post office in official operation in the Nation's Capital.

At the same time, in dedication ceremonies in the newly-modernized Washington City Post Office itself, Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield declared the 1914 building, which has had a complete interior face lifting, has now become a "postal showcase" that has far-reaching significance for the entire nation.

Major features of the first of the country's big post offices to have all possible automation and mechanization installed are:

1. A mile-long conveyor system to move 5,000,000 pieces of mail daily in and out for more than 650 planes and trains every day for many trucks.

2. Five miles of "Mail-Flo" conveyor belts to move mail swiftly between mail sorting areas on the Post Office work-room floor.

3. Semi-automatic letter sorting equipment to sort up to 18,000 letters an hour.

4. Semi-automatic parcel post sorting equipment to handle up to 14,400 parcels an hour to 32 destinations.

5. A postal laboratory for continuous development of even more advanced "postal machines of tomorrow".

These include even faster letter sorters; machines to "cull" mail—separate according to types—at high speeds; machines to "read" addresses on letters; others to cancel and to sort letters even faster.

In addition to speedier mail handling, many other improvements have been provided, Mr. Summerfield observed.

In the new "around-the-clock" lobby, he noted, open bank-type service counters greet the mailer. Nearby, machines sell stamps and postal cards, and make change. New fluorescent lighting improves efficiency, and the building will be air conditioned, with modernistic coloring. And, already, there are escalators to upper stories.

Mechanization and automation of post offices, which gets under way in Washington, D. C. on a large scale, will mean these significant developments for the American Postal System, Mr. Summerfield said.

1. Break the bottleneck to better mail service in this vital "gateway" post office.

2. Move the mails continuously and efficiently in and out of the workroom floors.

3. Keep the post office clean and free of costly congestion.

4. Eliminate drudgery and use the abilities of postal workers to better advantage.

Additionally, the modernization work in the Washington, D. C. Post Office is important because:

1. It will provide mechanization experience to convert other post offices.

2. It will be a testing ground for mail processing equipment of tomorrow.

3. It will be close for postal engineers to inspect and improve, and will serve as a national showcase so that visitors from everywhere may see what the Post Office Department expects to do in many other post offices in every section of the nation.

BACK-TO-FRONT SPLIT: The three levels in this house each run full width, instead of the conventional split-level arrangement raising only one end of the home. There are three bedrooms, living, family room and kitchen on the upper level, and an activities and laundry room on the lower level. The plan is HA 76-W by Architect Clifford N. Wright, 19115 Schoolcraft Ave., Detroit 23, Mich. Habitable area of the upper levels is 1,320 square feet.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — A boyish-looking ex-Army officer virtually unknown to the public is making a strong bid to become America's best-selling author.

"I never bothered to learn to write a sentence in school," dryly remarked John D. MacDonald. But he now earns more in a year than Edgar Allan Poe earned in a lifetime, and is creeping up fast on Erskine Caldwell and Mickey Spillane.

This one-man fiction factory became an author by accident. But he has turned out 38 books and some 300 short stories, novelettes and serials—a total of more than 15 million words—since 1945. His books have sold some 14 million copies in 10 countries.

MacDonald, 42, who emerged from the war as a lieutenant colonel, first turned to his typewriter in 1944 when he was stationed with the Office of Strategic Services in Ceylon.

"The only kind of letters you could get through censorship then made pretty dull reading," he recalled. "So, instead of a letter, I wrote my wife a short story."

"She sold it to a magazine for $25, and I decided right then that it looked like an easy way to earn a living."

But it didn't turn out to be so easy. In the four months of his terminal Army leave MacDonald wrote 689,000 words—the equivalent of 10 books — and lost 20 pounds.

"It was pretty horrible stuff," he acknowledged, "but it taught me my trade. At times I had 50 short stories in the mails at once.

"When they came back rejected and crinkled, I used to iron the pages flat to save the trouble of retyping them and send them out again. Later, I burned them all."

He started clicking in 1946.

MacDonald, who is tanned and wears a graying crew cut, lives in Sarasota, Fla. He writes on almost any topic.

He is so prolific that once he had four books published on successive days.

His latest novel, a story of hijinks in an American art colony in Mexico, took him 20 months. It gave him a lot of trouble. But during this same period he turned out four light suspense novels.

What qualities make a writer?

"If you're not by nature an omnivorous reader, forget about being a writer," he said. "The one thing that all writers I know have in common is that they are all compulsive readers."

"Secondly, a writer has to be an iconoclast. If you believe all that you are taught, read or told, you will have too standard a mind to become a writer."

"You will lack an individual viewpoint of your own. This a writer must have."

SPECIAL MEETING

Devil Dogs and Pups of the Marine Corps League are recommended there will be a meeting the second and fourth Thursday of each month, first session to be held at 8:00 p. m. this Thursday in the Marine Home. All are urged to be present.

Nine Pa. Items On March List of Plentiful Foods

HARRISBURG—Nine Pennsylvania produced foods are featured on the plentiful foods list for March.

Featuring eggs, the list includes dairy products, turkeys, potatoes, canned peas, apples, honey, lamb and pork.

John L. Rainey, director of the Bureau of Markets of the State Department of Agriculture points out that Easter and eggs go hand in hand. Menus planned to include Easter egg surprises will delight the family.

Colored hard-cooked eggs are always attractive—in the shell or with the shells removed. To color "shelled" eggs, dip hard-cooked eggs into vegetable coloring, or for the pretty pink and red tones, use beet juice. Deepness of color depends upon how long the eggs are immersed in the coloring.

Here is an Easter egg salad that is sure to cause happy comments by any family. Make a bed of finely shredded lettuce, cover multi-color cubes of different flavored gelatin topped by two deviled egg halves cut side up into partially set flavored gelatin. Chill until firm and cut into squares for serving on the lettuce bed. For the children, Easter bunnies can be fashioned by placing two hard-cooked egg halves, cut surfaces down, on a bed of lettuce and spreading mayonnaise over each egg. A bit

Radio and TV

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Matt Dillon, the hero of "Gunsmoke," is basically a fellow named John Meston, said Mrs. Meston the other day.

Looking amazed, Meston muttered, "You never said that before. I never thought about it."

"Well, I have," said Mrs. Meston, the former Bette Ford, who attained fame as one of the most popular woman bullfighters in Mexico before she retired to become the wife of the creator and author of "Gunsmoke."

"Matt Dillon is John Meston," said comely, dark-eyed Mrs. Meston. "John simply found him at home. This is purely a feminiopinion of Dillon, of course. But I think there's a gentleness about Dillon that comes straight from Meston.

He walks through life, unafraid. Things never worry him. He takes things in stride and always in hand. That's Dillon—and that's John. They even resemble each other physically."

It's true, Meston admitted, that he is often stopped on the street and mistaken for James Arness who plays Marshal Dillon in the CBS-TV weekly series (Saturdays, 10 p. m., EST). Meston, like Arness is tall, husky, sandy-haired. Yet Meston says he had nothing to do with casting Arness for the role.

The suspicion that some writers of TV westerns grew up in Brooklyn and never rode a horse does not apply to Meston. Coloradoborn, he's a good rider and can rope a calf.

Although he loved the West, Meston was graduated from Dartmouth, studied in France and was working on a Ph. D. thesis at Harvard when World War II came along. The subject of his uncompleted thesis was the influence of 17th Century French symbolists on contemporary British and American writers.

After army service he joined CBS radio as a story editor. There, with Producer Norman Macdonell, he created "Gunsmoke." Since the popular success of the TV series, it's sometimes forgotten that the radio "Gunsmoke" series continues rolling along on CBS radio (Sundays, 6:30 p. m., EST). On April 26, in fact, it starts its eighth year on radio. Meston still has a supervisory hand in the scripts.

Front entrance hardware is your home's "jewelry." At left, boldly designed brass or anodized gold aluminum escutcheon in the Shen motif, on door, left, sets pattern for the foyer. White door, wall and floor are accented by Chinese blue silk chair. Additional ornamental motifs are imbedded in white vinyl tile floor. At right, traditional front entrance sparkles with tasteful, solid brass hardware, including generous-size mailbox and practical umbrella stand.

Million Candidates In French Election

PARIS (AP) — There's an old song that goes: 50 million Frenchmen can't be wrong.

A new version might be just call an election and you'll get at least a million Frenchmen running. Politics is an enticing to the French as romance or a glass of wine.

No one has taken the trouble to make an exact count, but statisticians say there are at least a million candidates for jobs as municipal councillors.

The voting begins Sunday in almost 38,000 cities and towns to elect 480,000 councillors and mayors.

There are plenty of big name politicians running—including Premier Debre and seven members of his Cabinet—but they don't face Jacques who runs the cafe or Pierre who picks the grapes.

The mayor's job in France carries a unique distinction that none other overshadows. And more than a political macawp's required to win.
